

Emilia Saint Loup

My name is Emilia Saint Loup. I am 20 years old and live in North Texas. My mom grew up in the Morgan horse industry and is from the New England area. Her beginnings were at Orcland Farms in West Newbury MA. She introduced me to the Morgan breed. When our family moved to Texas she started her own equine facility on our property. I was 9 years old. Two years later she started a Morgan rescue, Morgan Safenet. I've been able to compete and be a part of the Morgan community since that young age in a variety of disciplines competing on many different horses that came from our rescue program. My dad is less of a horse person and is very involved in aviation. He is from France which also means my sister and I get dual citizenship. He runs a flying club out of our local airport and is a big part of helping around the farm with the general maintenance. Last year I got my Associates degree in general studies. Currently I am taking a break from school to explore a career in the equestrian industry. I still fulfill the role as an assistant trainer at HorseFeathers and furthering my training education in other avenues. I'm currently taking courses in positive reinforcement training, as well as planning to take more courses and obtain certifications in other equine related studies. I have a few students and training clients but I hope to soon create better programs implementing positive reinforcement training and grow my own business. It would mean a lot to me to win Youth of the Year as I have been an advocate of the Morgan horse since the beginning of my involvement with horses. Either through my help with Morgan Safenet Foundation or promotional events we've done such as bringing Morgans to my school and open houses. I love the idea of uplifting youth and enjoy my time in other programs like the youth council, medal classes as well as the merit program. And I encourage my students to take part in it as well. The Morgan breed means a lot to me and I hope to continue to have the Morgans be a part of my life whether it be as a professional or not.
