Is There Morgan Blood In Moyle Horses?

Dear Sir:

I would like to clarify the two statements made about my mare in your article about the Vermont 100 Mile Ride partly because I have "taken up the cause" and partly because I think your readers might be interested!

The mare, far from being of unknown breeding is of the Moyle breed, currently centered in Northern Utah and Idaho. These horses originated from the horses bred by the Mormons for long distance use in the 1860's, and are named for Mr. Rex Moyle, exactly as your Morgans are named for Justin Morgan. Mr. Moyle's family has had these horses for three generations, and he is now trying to breed enough of these horses so that some may be offered for sale in the future.

As for the individual mare, she competed in the Tevis Cup 100-mile-in-one-day ride on July 25th, after having lost a 3 day old foal on the 4th of July, and finished in a little over 14 hours riding time. She carried 204 lbs. the entire distance.

Our conjecture is that these horses probably have some Morgan blood, as they were bred up from the best horses which went west in the Gold Rush period. There were probably a good many Morgans going west, as they were fast and tough, good saddle horses, up to work in harness and not too large to be economical to feed. The Moyle horses are practically all bay with good although not Arabian-type heads, tough feet and exceptionally intelligent and accommodating dispositions. All of the above and much more, makes us think that the Morgan horse figured in the ancestry of the Moyle horse 100 years ago.

Sincerely yours,

M. P. MacKay-Simth

The President's Corner

As we approach the Christmas Season we think not only of our friends far and near but also of the many blessings we have enjoyed.

Our interest in Morgans has brought us no end of very dear friends and wherever we go we enjoy seeing them.

The Morgan Horse is a family horse, it associates itself with the type of owners we like to be with. It is always a great pleasure to hear these owners tell how much they have enjoyed their Morgans. If we can only keep the Morgan a family horse our market is unlimited and he will go on forever. Maybe they won't sell at prices brought by some other breeds but personally I think this is of secondary importance.

Encourage people to take their children to visit Morgan farms, get them interested in the breed and they will be the future owners.

I take this time to wish you one and all a very Merry Christmas and a wonderful Morgan year for 1965.

Sincerely,
J. Cecil Ferguson

The

Christmas Baby

By PAT GREENE

Winters are usually pretty mild in this section of the state. We manage to get our share of cold but the duration's shorter. Our Chamber of Commerce boasts about the short winter season and the small amount of snow that falls. However, last winter was an exception — snow fell early in November and it snowed continually until the middle of March. It was during a winter like this that I taught a rural school and spent a Christmas that I shall never forget!

School was out for Christmas vacation and it was with a great deal of relief that I saw the last youngster safely bundled up in his snow suit disappear into the school bus. For some reason the first half of the school year had been especially trying. Perhaps it was just me — trying too hard — pounding endlessly some knowledge into the rural minds of the twelve children that attended the Logan Creek school in grades one to eight. I was ready for this Christmas vacation and felt I needed it.

I spent the night in the small teacherage where I lived, and happily packed all my belongings for the trip back into civilization and the city. I never liked the country or country life; it was too hard and difficult. I did not care for animals or the down to earth work involved in farming. If I could have taught at any other place but Logan Creek I would, but this was the only school open and the pay was good. Miraculously my Ford started. As cars go, this one was very temperamental. In

New York State Morgan Show

By MARY KIPP
117 Chapel Street
Penn Yan, New York

The Fifth Annual New York State Morgan Horse Society, Inc. Show at the Exposition Grounds in Syracuse, N. Y., presented three programs on Saturday and two programs on Sunday, October 3rd and 4th.

Superior quality of Morgans was in evidence with the 174 Morgans shown before judges Dean Jackson and Joseph Vonorio.

Exhibitors came from New York, Canada, Kansas, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Florida, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Vermont.

All classes filled well except Pairs in Harness. This class was cancelled and a class for two year olds in Harness was added. This class drew five entries of youthful elegance.

The proof of a good one breed show can be the meritorious quality of horses shown in the In Hand Classes. Class I of the show for Stallions four years and over drew fourteen regal Morgans and set the high class competition right through to late Sunday afternoon's Champion Saddle Stake for eleven Morgans. And again every horse looking and going the way of a Champion. Spectator interest was eager and applause approved the Judges' selection of Bay State Gallant with his free way of moving.

The New York State Futurity Section of the Show was sparked by Mary Arnold and listed 4-H entries this year.

The New York Morgan Show is fortunate also in the membership of willing and able people who give so generously of their time and contributions. Announcer Deacon Doubleday makes the show an expeditious affair with timely assists for operators and exhibitors and with just the needed information for spectators. The quiet efficiency of Ring Master Francis Gaffney and Steward Jon Loomis helped toward smooth operation.

The 4-H Drill Team, Oakland Riders, of Weedsport, N. Y., with Mrs. Christian Nelson as Club Leader and Mrs. George Harris in charge of music presented a colorful and well executed Musical Ride during the Intermission of Saturday evening's and Sunday afternoon's Show. Each year the Morgan Show has drawn an increasing number of spectators. About the same folks come every year and bring others. The Coliseum is so large that the crowd looks small until a count is made. At the New York State Morgan Show you can always find choice seats for your friends and the best stabling for your horses.

The Versatile Morgan . . .

Story and Pictures by JUDITH S. BUCK
Reprinted from the Syracuse Post-Standard Magazine, September 20, 1964

In the year 1791, a man named Justin Morgan journeyed from Randolph, Vt., to Springfield, Mass., to collect a debt. In payment he received a horse and a two-year-old colt. The Justin Morgan colt, as he was later called, was to sire a strain of horses that many people believe to be the only true American breed of horse. This year commemorates the 175th anniversary of the birth of the Justin Morgan Horse.

A small horse, not much over fourteen hands, Justin Morgan had great courage and a will to win. He out-ran out-trotted, and out-pulled the horses and teams he was matched against with a gaiety of manner that made light of every effort. His antecedents remain shrouded in mystery, but his descendants, even some one hundred and seventy-five years later show an amazing conformity, have the same gentle disposition and willingness to work.

The many descendants of the Justin Morgan Horse have played their part in opening the West. Cowboys and cavalymen both rode them and spoke highly of their abilities. In the Civil War an entire troop of the First Vermont Cavalry was mounted on Morgans and distinguished themselves with valor on many battlefields. Ethan Allen 50, a great-grandson, was considered to be the foundation sire of the fastest trotters and pacers of that era. His famous race with Dexter (the one in which he became the fastest trotting stallion in the world) received greater acclaim in that year of 1867 than did the words of the President of the United States.

The Morgan horse has proved his worth as a family horse, a work horse, a children's horse, a cutting horse, an all-around ranch horse, a hunter, a saddle horse; English, Western, Trail, Pleasure or Show Horse. The Morgan can be driven with ease, and there is nothing more beautiful than a pair of matched Morgan horses in harness.

Below: Morgans are for children, as Ellen Mercer, 13, of Solo Stables, Baldwinsville, wins first prize in equitation on her gelding BAYFIELD DUGHAL.

The Morgan

America's oldest breed, the Morgan Horse is distinctive for his stamina and vigor, for his versatility and his eagerness at any task. He is a small horse, ranging in size from 14 to 15½ hands high, and is shown naturally with a full mane and tail.

Under saddle the Morgan shows the style and animation which he has given so freely to other breeds in their development.

He is a popular "cow horse" in the West, and ranchers who have Morgans claim them superior to all breeds for their work.

In harness the Morgan has much of the style of a fine harness animal, but the road-covering qualities of a roadster. His blood flows in the veins of most Standardbreds.

Waseeka's Nocturne retires Challenge Trophy — with this win he was retired from the show ring.

By ANNA D. ELA

It was Waseeka's Nocturne's day on stake night at this year's Pennsylvania National Horse Show. He won the stake for the third time and so retired the Challenge Trophy. His previous wins had been in 1961 and 1962. This Challenge Trophy was donated by Mrs. A. S. Kelley and was called the "Windcrest Dona Lee Challenge Trophy," after that famous mare. This mare had retired the former Challenge Trophy. The trophy has "to be won three times by the same exhibitor for permanent possession." On winning this class the announcer gave a resume of Waseeka's Nocturne's many wins and said that this was his last show. His owner Mrs. D. D. Powers, said that if Nocturne won he was to be retired and so John Lydon rode this great stallion from the ring for the last time amidst a tremendous hand from the spectators.

Second to Nocturne in the championship class was Gay Cavalier. Ridden by Pat Tataronis, he put on quite a show to receive the Reserve Championship. This young stallion is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Darwin S. Morse of Richmond, Mass. He had previously won the harness class with Dr. Robert Orcutt as whip. Another young horse that bears watching is Trophy's Emerald, a three year old mare with a whale of a trot. She won the under class and the Junior class and finished third in the Stake. This mare was ridden by her owner Bill Holtz and they put on a wonderful show. The pleasure class was won by that reliable mare, Kane's Spring Delite, owned by the Camelot Farm.

Once again the Pennsylvania National Horse Show surpassed itself in the number of entries. Over 1100 horses and ponies were exhibited at one of the East's largest indoor shows. This is the show where the International equestrian teams start on their fall show circuit. The International teams represented five countries this year and twice daily they had international jumping competition. The Pennsylvania State Farm Show Arena in Harrisburg is one of the better show rings and the facilities are excellent.

The Morgan had about the same number of entries as they did last year. The Junior class was the smallest with seven entries and the Stake class was the largest with fourteen entries. Morgan exhibitors should do something about filling the Morgan classes here, as it is a great place to present the Morgans in front of large audiences. There is great publicity for the breed here. The afternoon and evening sessions are always held in front of a large audience. The Pennsylvania National offers six classes for Morgans, the Junior, the Over and Under, Harness, Pleasure and the $500 Championship Stake class. There are a total of 238 classes at this large indoor show which is held for one week the last part of October.

This year Mr. Carl H. Asmis of Sykesville, Maryland judged the Morgan classes Mrs. Asmis assisted her husband in the pleasure class. There were a

Young Stock Sale Big Bend Farms, Rockford, Illinois

(For pictures of the 4-H Field Day, see page 40)

Each fall, Big Bend Farms goes all out in a gala Morgan promotional campaign designed to whet the interest of all horse lovers and gently nudge them into joining the ranks of proud Morgan owners. This year's project was a 4-H field day and Morgan young stock sale. The success of both hinged mightily on the co-operation and encouragement of Anna Ela and daughter Nancy, who consigned and trailered their weanling stallion 1500 miles, kept a captive audience with their witty and educational 4-H program and went on to cap the day by topping the sale with the very impressive weanling colt, Townshend Vigil.

The first year is the hardest and many breeders kept their stock home with a "wait and see" outlook. Small though the group was however, there were many outstanding individuals made available to buyers who came from all over the middle west to buy and observe.

First horse through the sale was also top mare of the sale consigned by Big Bend Farms, Big Bend Black Rose, a deep bodied yearling mare unmistakably stamped with the true Morgan head of her sire, Windcrest Playboy. High bidder was Mr. Wayland Schultz of Plymouth, Wisconsin who bought the mare for his wife. Black Rose will join over one hundred head of purebred Arab horses owned by the Schulz's at their fantastic new stable at Hillcrest Arab Stud.

Mrs. John Junk, Sugar Run Farm, Sterling, Ohio, was successful bidder on Anna Ela's weanling stallion, Townshend Vigil, who bears a striking resemblance to his incomparable grand-sire, Ulendon. This colt, by Orcland Vigildon and out of Townshend Cornita has it all in one package, beauty, brilliance and bloodlines.

We are indebted to all who came, to buy, to sell, or just to look, with a special thanks to those who consigned animals to this, our first annual sale.

I've Been Asked

I have just returned from addressing a series of horsemen's meetings in Nevada, Utah and Idaho. Here are the most frequently asked questions, along with my answers:

Q. Why do horses chew wood; what can be done to alleviate it?

A. Horses chew wood - mangers and fences - because they're bored. Since domestication, about 5,000 years ago, horses have been confined to an unnatural environment. Many of them are kept in stalls or corrals 95 per cent of the time, and exercised before sun-up.

To stop (or lessen) wood chewing, step up the exercise.

Q. Do you recommend the prolonged and continuous feeding of antibiotics to mature horses?

A. No. Unless there is a low disease level, there is no evidence to warrant the continuous feeding of antibiotics to older horses. In my judgment, such a practice may even be harmful.

Q. What can be done about dry, cracked hoofs?

A. Trim the feet if they need it, keep animals on stall floors of clay, and make a mud hole about the watering tank — thereby requiring that the animal stand in it. Also, there are some good commercial packs and ointments.

Q. If the ration contains minerals, is it also necessary to self-feed them?

A. Yes. People and horses have many things in common; among them, some individuals require more salt and other minerals than others. I feel that the ration should contain a reasonable level of minerals. Then, animal and feed differences (due to stage of maturity at harvest, weathering, length of storage, etc.) should be met by free-choice mineral feeding. Allow free access to a double compartment mineral box; with ground salt in one side, and in the other either (1) a mixture of 1/3 salt and 2/3 steamed bone meal (or dicalcium phosphate) or (2) a good commercial mineral.

Q. Can one overdo the feeding of Vitamin A?

A. Yes. I think so. It's wasteful to feed more Vitamin A than is needed. I emphasize this point because some companies appear to be using the quantity of Vitamin A in their product(s) as a sales gimmick.

Also, there are some indications that too high levels of Vitamin A over an extended period of time may actually be harmful to man and to some animal species. The reported symptoms: skin lesions, coarse and falling hair, thin and brittle bones, liver and kidney damage, and degeneration of muscles. When fed as directed, the vast majority of horse feeds won't provide excesses of Vitamin A. But where higher product levels than needed are used as "eye wash", there is hazard that the horseman will administer the "stuff" like the Irishman's medicine, "If a little will do some good, a larger dose will do more good." Then, too, there may be a doubling up if both the mixed feed and the "conditioner" contain Vitamin A. Finally, it must be remembered that, unlike meat animals that are produced for slaughter, horses are fed for a long life of usefulness.

Q. How do you start horses on pelleted feed?

A. Make the shift gradually, just as should be done in any ration change.

Q. How do you start a foal on a creep feed?

A. Keep the feed fresh and sweet, induce the colt to nuzzle a little of the feed from your hand, and be patient.

Q. I purchased a registered colt whose testicles have never come down. Will he be of any value as a stud? He is now 27 months old?

A. The condition which you describe where the testicles have not descended to the scrotum, is known as cryptorchidism. This may occur with one or both testicles. Such undescended testicles are usually sterile because of the high temperature in the abdomen. In most classes of animals, we consider this condition heritable. Thus, it is recommended that animals so affected not be retained for breeding purposes.

Q. Will locust trees (or leaves) poison a horse?

A. I know of no evidence that locust leaves are poisonous to horses. On the contrary, locust pods (from the honey locust) are high in sugar and may be used in stock feeding; the Alabama station found that they were a satisfactory substitute for oats in a dairy cow ration, and were very palatable.

The Morgan Horse In the West

By BARBARA J. KING
*Reprinted from the February, 1964
issue of Crossed Spurs*

RENEWED INTEREST

Many words have been written about the Morgan Horse — a truly unique breed, founded on the history of our great America, and until recently, almost a rarity in the ever-growing western states. For those who own them, care for them, and love them, it is a great comfort to know the Morgan Horse is "coming back." This is evident by the number participating in open competition and the interest displayed in All-Morgan Shows throughout the West.

To typify this cascade of interest and participation of Morgans, one of the many western area clubs (which have sprung up in the past few years), was formed in July of 1961 by a handful of Morgan owners. By the end of 1963, the club boasted 64 family memberships, or approximately 175 members, and representing well over 200 Morgan horses. This is phenomenal growth in a period of two and one half years, and is also indicative of the other western area clubs.

Two All-Morgan Shows are held annually in the Southern California area, one in the Spring and one in the Fall. These shows are drawing participants from Northern California, Arizona and Nevada, for two full days each season. Along with the usual type of horse show classes, is a class unique to the breed and a delight to observe. This is the "Justin Morgan Class" which consists of Morgans shown first in harness, then under saddle at a walk, trot and canter, making two jumps not to exceed three feet, and lastly to pull a stone boat (500 lbs. minimum weight) a distance of 6 feet in work harness. Morgans have well earned their reputation as America's most versatile present breed of horse.

Morgan registrations are at an all time high, and great interest is also being shown for the Half-Morgan, i.e., those sired by or foaled to a registered Morgan. The American Part-Blooded Registry in Portland, Oregon operates the Half-Morgan Horse Register. These Half-Morgan foals are much desired for gymkhana events, working stock horse, and pleasure animals.

MORGAN CONFORMATION

What are some of the points which stand out in a true type Morgan? First, probably is the head. The Morgan is extremely broad between the eyes, which are large and expressive; has small well set ears; a heavy jaw but firm muzzle and large nostrils. He carries his head high and proudly, and forever gives the appearance of a spirited but highly tractable horse. He is small, usually not over 15.2 hands, but he is truly the "BIG LITTLE HORSE." The neck is rather short and full, but well arched. He has strong sloping shoulders; his back is short but the barrel is long, the ribs well sprung. His entire appearance is one of strength and yet of style. In movement he is proud and eager for what is ahead. He has a snappy trot, with ample action for his build. He is a beautiful horse in his natural state, with mane flying, and tail held naturally, with ears forward, nostrils extended, and sparkling eyes. He is a worthy heir to the heritage of the great Justin Morgan, the foundation sire of the Morgan Horse.

Along with this outstanding conformation, one thing should not be overlooked in the Morgan. Depending upon the point of view, some may call it disposition, but it can also be referred to as that hard-to-define something which horsemen call "heart". Intelligence is also a prime factor, and with all these things combined, make the Morgan Horse excel as a pleasure mount.

THE MORGAN AS A FAMILY HORSE

Most of us who are interested in horses during this present day and age, do not have the opportunity to make a living in relation to our horses; as did the cowboys and large ranchers of the West. Horses have become our pleasure and back-yard pets, and often, a whole, some, outdoor interest for our children. It is a proven fact that delinquency among the kids who have horses is nil. What better interest can we provide for our youngsters, or as a matter of fact, for us oldsters? Which brings me to the reason we own Morgan Horses as our family mounts. They are sound, sure-footed, attractive horses, upon which our daughter can ride anywhere, and with anyone, without our concern for her safety.

What do most of us look for in a pleasure mount — probably a good, fast walking horse, with smooth gaits and easy disposition. I might add, however, that all horses, of any breed, have faults and if they are not excessively bad faults, we accept them as part of the horse's personality. To look for the "perfect" horse is a fruitless search; but to find an "honest, trustworthy" horse is one to hold onto. What more can we ask of any animal?

There is a lot to be said, also, about owning a registered horse. There is absolutely no question about age, ownership, or breeding. Every Morgan Horse registered can be directly traced back to the original sire, Justin Morgan. For many years there has been only one way to register a foal in the Morgan Horse Registry, and that is through a registered sire and dam. This is truly a registry to be proud of and we are equally proud of our Morgans. The initial expense is understandably higher but the value is always apparent. It costs no more to feed a registered horse than one of undetermined origin. The price of Morgans, as in any breed, depends on the amount and quality of training the individual has received. Weanlings are the best buy if the owner can train and fit his own animal. Unstarted two year olds ready to ride are usually available for those who can't wait to get a leg on each side. Finished show, and/or trail horses are hard to find, but available at a price.

Registered Morgan geldings are much in demand in the West and especially here in California. Due to the splendid climate, trail rides, both pleasure and competitive, are held almost weekly. These easy gaited, proud going, intelligent mounts carry men, women and kids on the Diablo, Hesperia, Vista-Palmar, Sonoma, and many other nationally-known trail rides. As a pleasure mount, most horsemen will agree that the geldings are the most reliable.

But regardless of age, sex or color, there is a special feeling to mount one of these proud little horses with such a great heritage and a big heart. Makes a person sit a little taller in the saddle just to have the privilege of knowing one.

Ask The Doctor

This column is added as a personal service to our readers. Send your questions direct to Ruth Rogers, Martin Rd., Akron, N. Y. They will be answered by a competent veterinarian. These doctors give their time and knowledge to help us with our horses.

Questions answered this month by

Vernon, N. Y.

Question: Do you believe that heaves can be cured? I see so much advertising nowadays, I just don't know what to think.

Answer: My answer will have to be a qualified "no". If the condition actually is heaves, the outlook is not favorable. The symptoms of chronic bronchitis are very similar to those of heaves, and the bronchitis can be alleviated with proper care and treatment.

Heaves can be controlled but probably not cured. Special food products are helpful in this disease.

Question: Can a mare with cysts ever be bred successfully?

Answer: Yes. Cystic ovaries are caused by hormone unbalance, which can often be corrected by hormone therapy. You will need the assistance of your own veterinarian on this.

Question: My foal has small raw spots, places that look only slightly skinned, on the outside of each hock, about in the middle as seen from the side. I have been told that the mare bites him, but doubt that this is true, since when she punishes him she nips him on the rump. Need I treat the foal for this?

Answer: I doubt that the mare is to blame. These spots are probably caused by rubbing or scratching somewhere in the stall. Try to find the cause and eliminate it. A mild antiseptic ointment such as zinc oxide should help. If the spots do not respond, consult your veterinarian.

Question: My mare comes in season with reasonable regularity, the vet says she is not infected and not cystic, yet we can't get her in foal. About two years ago she aborted twin foals. Could this have any bearing on her difficulty? What would you advise me to do.

Answer: This is a hard question to answer without an examination and

Society of Morgan Friends

Route 1, Box 125, 25W700 Geneva Road, Wheaton, Illinois

Of all the news that there is this month, probably the most lasting importance attaches to the Morgan sale held at Big Bend Farm by the Mid-States Club. Reporting this event is properly the province of that club, but we were happy to find other areas so well represented among the buyers, and delighted with the exceptional quality of the stock offered. Outstanding among them was a flashy colt consigned and accompanied by Anna Ela from Bolton, Mass., who went home with Mrs. Junk to Ohio. Another splendid colt left the sale with Doris Ryan, and one of our own members, Candy Heide-man, topped the bidding on one of the better fillies, Tapnor's Top Secret. Her dad has a keen eye for a good horse, and together they keep things moving faster than the rest of the family can follow. The filly is their first Morgan although their pretty Palomino, Candy's Queen is in foal to Adonis for a half-bred foal, and they have a Quarter horse mare and an Arabian filly that are right up to snuff. It will be interesting to see, with so many good horses, which way their breed enthusiasms take them. We're betting on the Morgan charm.

The last meeting of the Society of Morgan Friends added several new friends to the group. The McKees, from Batavia get a thumping welcome and congratulations on their recent addition to their Morgans of the fine gelding, Lippitt Orphan Andy. Carolyn started it all with her dedication to her own Brass Buttons, Ruth contributed to the plot by losing her heart to the Osborne's stallion, Orculdon, and not to be outdone, father's choice of the McDougal's gelding has really closed the circle for a very nice family. These three Morgans are together at the Art Titus Stable in Batavia.

Included in the group both at the Titus Stable and among recent additions to the club is Jack Kemper. Owner of a number of Morgans, Jack's special pride is his two year old son of Allen's Major out of Gay Sally Ash, who is taking his harness training with Art, and showing every indication that he will be a strong contender on the circuit next year. We are especially pleased

National Champ RanBunctious Dies

One of the most popular and successful Morgans of recent years has passed from the scene. Ran-Bunctious who was Pleasure Horse Champion at the National Morgan Show in 1963 and Reserve Champion in 1964, died suddenly of a heart attack while out for a pleasure ride with his owner Mrs. Douglas M. Dalrymple of Elmira, N. Y. He was seven years old.

During his all-too-brief career, Ran-Bunctious repeatedly proved himself a versatile champion taking top honors in saddle and harness events as well as breed classes, pleasure, pleasure driving and pulling contests.

He was Mid-Atlantic High Score Champion Stallion in 1961, New York State Champion Stallion in 1963, and again led for that award this year.

Although his career as a sire was just beginning, he leaves behind several very promising daughters. He had the distinction of siring 100% fillies in his three seasons at stud.

Ran-Bunctious was a royal son of a championship line. His sire, Black Ran-Bo won a grand championship at the National in 1959; his grandsire Black Sambo was champion stallion there in 1954; and his half-brother Man-bo of Laurelmont was National Junior Champion Stallion in 1962.

The Morgan world joins in extending sympathy to Mrs. Dalrymple who has not only lost a great horse but a beloved companion.

Another show season has become history with the curtain falling after Harrisburg and the Versatility Show which are reported elsewhere in this issue.

If nothing else, this reporter viewed the past season as one in which an important number of good young horses came into the spotlight. As the scoring for Mid-Atlantic awards progressed through the season, it was obvious that a new crop was largely replacing some of the old standbys in our competition.

For instance, think how long it has been since those two great champions, Manito and Dennisfield, were not in contention for awards. Although both of them scored well this year, they did not make a complete season of it. At the same time, three of the top horses this year were very promising three-year-olds.

It was also a year in which the calibre of our shows was stepped up. We were pleased to add Branchville to our circuit and extend our thanks to New Brunswick and Cooper Hospital for upgrading their Morgan divisions to "A" status for us.

Let's review the outcome of the 1964 award scoring.

The In-Hand category is one of the most basic as it is judged on purity of Morgan type and conformation. This year the winner had clinched the championship before the end of the season but reserve was up for grabs right up to the last in-hand class. Honorable mention goes to Mary DeWitt's Doc Dimock and to Joselene Hills Farm's Count Benaida Vona who narrowly missed out on reserve, which did go to Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Colgate's three year old mare Oldwick DeLovely. Top honors went to her stablemate, Oldwick High Diamond who was reserve last year.

Scoring for the Western Division championship involved more horses than last year. In this case honorable mention should again go to Doc Dimock who was a scant 4 points behind the reserve champion which was Applevale Katonah, owned by Voorhis Farm. (Both of these contenders are three year olds). Western champion is Mrs. Joy Platz' Jomando.

We consider the Promotion Award important because it is scored on classes outside the Morgan division and brings our breed to the attention of other people. This year 15 horses scored in the Promotion column and two were far ahead of the pack.

The reserve champion quite literally missed out on the top ribbon by the toss of a coin. At the Cooper Hospital Show this fall, The Third Man owned by Mary DeWitt, was tied for reserve in the working hunter division. It would have given him the points he needed in the annual scoring. But he lost the toss for that ribbon and had

It certainly doesn't seem possible that the time has come again to wish all of you a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year. I hope that Santa leaves your stockings running over, and that the New Year brings you a barn full of fillies and lots of blue ribbons.

Again news is scarce. Won't you take a minute to drop me a line?

Massachusetts

Miss Patsy Freund of Amesbury writes that they have sold their weanling stallion, Joy's Marengo (Green Meads Marauder x Vigilda Joy) to Mr. Thomas Camandona of Middleboro, Massachusetts. "Marengo" is the Freund's first foal, but since Patsy is off to college this fall, she decided a colt was too much responsibility to leave at home with her parents. They will, of course, keep her nice mare, Vigilda Joy. Patsy is now taking dressage lessons at Smith College, and has had the opportunity to ride the only Morgan at Smith, Orland Moonglow, better known as "Orky."

New Hampshire

Mrs. Ruth Gay has purchased two mares recently, Glenway's Diamante (Meade x Glendale) and Skiparee Edna Ash (Bald Mt. Ashglo x Pine Ridge Edna). Both mares are in foal and she and her daughter, Mrs. Whitney Haddock and family of Far Well Farm, Swanzey Center, are anxiously awaiting these foals. Although Mrs. Gay does no riding herself, she enjoys having her granddaughter get pleasure from riding and using the horses.

Rhode Island

A late foal announcement . . . Mr. and Mrs. J. Champlain of Stonehouse Farm, Scituate, Rhode Island report the arrival of a liver chestnut colt by Stonehouse Leader out of Lasatina.

Vermont

Mrs. Ruth Towne of Towne-Ayr Farm, Montpelier, reports the following sales recently: The weanling chestnut colt by Lippitt Rob Roy out of Towne-Ayr Belle, Towne-Ayr Vermonter, has been sold to Jacqueline P. Wilson of Lanham, Maryland. I believe he will be retained for future breeding. Towne-Ayr Minuet, (Trilbrook Joel x Towne-Ayr Rondo) a chestnut weanling filly, has been sold to Anita Hoitsma of Franklin Lakes, New Jersey. Anita also owns Lippitt Easter Tweed. Also the brown weanling filly, Towne-Ayr Redbird (Trilbrook Joel x Towne-Ayr Robbin) has been sold to Mrs. E. S. Read of Sheldon, Vermont. Both Towne-Ayr Rondo and Towne-Ayr Bobbin are daughters of Lippitt Rob Roy.

Following are the results of the Cumberland, R. I. Kiwanis Horse Show, October 4, 1964, judged by Mr. David LaSalle:

Open Morgan: Won by SPRING'S SEALECT, Joyce Raymond; 2nd, STONEHOUSE LEADER, Mr. and Mrs. J. Champlain; 3rd, LIPPITT TWEEDLE DEE, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Watterson.

Morgan Pleasure: Won by CHEROKEE PRINCESS, Shirley Laczynski; 2nd, LIPPITT TWEEDLE DEE; 3rd, JUST-A-DREAM; 4th, MORGAN JIM.

Our news has a lot of catching up to do this month. So hang on, and here we go.

First of all, an interesting letter from Mr. C. Winslow of Minneapolis telling about his trip to the Eastern National with his yearling stallion, Bongo Don. and his pretty little mare, Lurgan. He was bubbling over with interesting things to tell. First of all, he said, that they couldn't have been treated nicer. "The people who had stables near us were very helpful and pleasant and in every way we were made to feel welcome. After our old mare, Lurgan, won second in Road Hack we decided it would be a good idea to enter her in the Roadster Under Saddle Class. The problem was that you must show in this class in silks and we didn't have any. I went to the Tack Shops and tried to buy some but they didn't have any. Finally mentioned my sorry plight to a young fellow I met and he said he thought maybe he could do something about it. He took me over and introduced me to Mrs. Roger Ela from Townshend Farm. When I asked her if she had an extra set of silks I could borrow she said she didn't have an extra set but that she was going to be busy that afternoon anyway so she would scratch her horse from that class so that we could use her silks. I tried to refuse but she insisted so we used them and got another red ribbon in the Roadster class. I have never experienced a more generous gesture."

"Later we showed Lurgan in Pleasure Driving Mare class and got a fourth place so we decided to put her in the Pleasure Driving Stake on Saturday night. When I saw all those beautiful stallions, geldings and mares I didn't think we had much of a chance, but the old girl outdid herself and came up Reserve Grand Champion in the class. As you know, Vee Ann Wood showed her for us and she did an outstanding job."

"All in all, we were very happy with the results and had a wonderful time," was the way Cap Winslow finished his letter. And we in this area know he really feels that way because he has been so lavish in his praise of the National.

They are busy converting a dairy barn into box stalls and plan to board horses upon completion. They were moving during the Hugo show and combined their last load of horses with going to the Hugo show for halter classes and "we were real pleased with HySara Lee's being Reserve Champion Mare after placing first in the two-year old filly's."

Canada Calling

By DIANA CLARKE
Box 64.
Minnedosa, Manitoba

Left: Morgan Horse Club President J. Cecil Ferguson delivers the yearling stallion BROADWALL BARRYMORE 14675 (Parade x Raymond's Lyn) to his new home in Nova Scotia. Mrs. E. Clifford Bishop his new owner, poses him. This is the third Broadwall Farm bred stallion to be sold to Canada as a future sire.

Here we are again in the month of the holly and the Santa Clauses. The only good thing about winters, especially Canadian winters is that spring usually follows. Usually!

To date I still haven't heard word from B. C. concerning the P.N.E. Morgan classes, but by 1965 I should be able to give you the data.

I had word from Peggy McDonald at Millet. Kilgoran Farm had a visit from Miss Carlee McLean and her mother, Mrs. McLean of Mission City, B. C. They were on holiday and also visited the Turneys at Ponoka. Miss McLean is the owner of the fine stallion Hylee's Top Brass.

Mrs. McDonald also sent along a letter from Joanne E. Dowell of Halifax, N. S. of which I will repeat in part. "This June the 5 year old mare, Windy Main Aria (Windcrest Ben Davis x Miller's Beauty) was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Sheridan of Twin Meadows Jersey Farm, Kinsmans Corners, Kings Co., N. S. from Mr. and Mrs. Don St. Pierre, Essex Junction, Vermont. The St. Pierre's delivered Aria a couple of days after she had won a first ribbon at the Lynmac Stable Horse Show on June 13, in Vermont." Miss Dowell goes on to tell of Aria's winnings in N. S., 2nd in pleasure class at Annapolis Valley Light Horse Show, at Annapolis County Exhibition she received a first in Maiden Pleasure, second in a large Pleasure class, second in lead line, open to all breeds of light registered horses and second in a family class. Aria was ridden by Mrs. Allister Marshall, a noted horsewoman of that area.

Last month I mentioned the above horse only as a new import. However, I would like to hear just how your individual horses are doing in the show ring and out, so if any of you have anything you think is interesting to tell of your horses, pass it along and I will see that everyone gets to know about it.

This year Manitoba had another first in the Morgan showing line. At the annual Virden fall show, two days, they inaugurated Morgan Line classes. The winners of such were Morgan stallion: 1st, Orland Flintstone, owned and

The grapevine has it that there are some new Morgan owners in southern Manitoba. They have imported a stallion and two mares, am I right? I hope to be able to give more information on this later.

A half Morgan filly foal was born on Sept. 30th, sired by Clarke Stables King O'Hara (King Richard x Scarlett O'Hara). The proud owner is Lloyd Ferguson of Minnedosa. King O'Hara

Results of the Third Annual Morgan Show

M.H.B.E.A.'s 3rd Annual All Morgan Show is now history! This year, it was bigger than ever — approximately 200 Morgans attended with over 400 entries — a full two day Show, plus a Saturday night show for the first time.

The classes were very large, both in Halter and Performance and quality and condition was the order of the day. Almost without exception each Morgan showed the results of many hours of grooming.

As I stood in the Halter line-up of some of the younger age groups waiting for the class to be judged and I looked down the long line of waiting Morgans, I couldn't help thinking back a few years to the early fifties when I was showing Morgans in Northern California and again in Illinois — the small classes we wished were larger — what wonderful progress has been made! This year for the first time, the Produce of Dam Class was full to overflowing. Nearly every Halter class filled the ring from end to end and what a beautiful sight it was! Yes, the Morgan has come a long way these last few years.

Mr. Richard F. Stanger of Idaho Falls, Idaho, judged the Show, both halter and performance. He was very thorough giving careful attention to each individual. He was a pleasant and courteous judge, which made showing a pleasure. However, I believe this was his first Morgan show and a little more familiarity with Morgan type would have helped. One of the faults of our Western judges is not taking breed type into consideration. They are excellent on all points of conformation required in a using horse. In our Morgan Division of the American Horse Show Rules, Part II In Hand Classes, it clearly states "Emphasis shall be on type and conformation with consideration given to horses' ability to move correctly on the lead." One should note that "type" is placed first. The same would apply to Performance Classes also, for while performance of the animal is of paramount importance here, the rules clearly state "entries shall be judged 40% on type and conformation and 60% on other qualifications appropriate to the class. In Championship and/or Stake Classes, type and conformation shall count 50%."

Waer's Play Boy was Grand Champion Stallion with Bill Bailey Reserve Champion Stallion of the Show.

Maribelle went on to be Grand Champion Mare of the Show with the excellent Junior Champion Mare, Waer's Lady Be Good, Reserve Champion Mare.

High Point Morgan of the Show was Siskiyou Lady owned by the Floyd Mansker family, with Lorraine Mansker High Point Junior Rider. High Point Senior Rider was Glen Gimple.

Lorraine Mansker placed third in the English Pleasure Stake Class and donated her winnings to MHBEA. Later the Mansker Family joined MHBEA and we certainly welcome this family of good Morgan boosters to our organization. Lorraine has done much for the Morgan in Northern California where they live with her popular mare, Scarlet Ribbons. She is an excellent rider and shows her Morgans regularly.

This year MHBEA raffled off a fancy western saddle and bridle at the end of the Sunday Show. The winner was a young girl from El Monte, Calif., Barbara Mulqueen, who is a Junior in High School. She has a part Morgan and was thrilled to win the saddle. She came to the Show Sunday and spent her last dollar on the winning ticket.

Two Morgans changed owners at the show. One, the winner of the Weanling Filly Class, Waer's Mar Lisa 013607 was actually purchased many months before by Loren Bentley of Weeds Heights, Nevada from the Double F Ranch with delivery taken at the Show. The Waer's showed this good looking filly for Loren. Mar Lisa is the first filly sired by the Waer's young Champion of the show, Waer's Play Boy. The second filly to change hands was the pretty yearling Waer's Silk N' Satin from the Double F Ranch to Richard Burns of Yerington, Nevada. Both of these young men from Nevada have a splendid collection of Morgans and we will be hearing more from them in the future Shows. Loren Bentley's handsome young stallion was Junior Champion Stallion of MHBEA's 1963 All Morgan Show — King Stetson, sired by Broadwall St. Pat.

Seems like our perfect So. California weather didn't agree so well with some of our visitors from the North. Velma Wagoner from Modesto dislocated her back — Lavonne Houlton also of Modesto lost her voice with laryngitis the first day of the show, while her daughter Leslie sprained her wrist. These are two of our Morgan breeders and boosters from the North Central part of the state.

The results of M.H.B.E.A.'s 3rd Annual All Morgan Horse Show are as follows:

Colts of 1964 (13 entries): Won by CAVEN GLO MYMAN, ridden by Eve Oakley, owned by Caven-Glo; 2nd, RHED FITZGERALD, ridden and owned by Jerald H. Now that the show bridles and saddles have been polished for the last time and the buggies dismantled for the winter, it is with regret that we clean that last bit of dirt from our nails and brush the tanbark from our cuffs until next year. The last show of the season was the beautiful Oakbrook Show on October 3 and 4 (Judge: Rex Parkinson). The placings:

Morgans in Harness: Won by JAUNTY JUSTIN; 2nd, MORO HILL'S MICHELE; 3rd, BRUCEWOOD ADONIS; 4th, EMERALD'S BIG JOHN.

Morgan In Hand: Won by BRUCEWOOD ADONIS; 2nd, MORO HILL'S MICHELE; 3rd, JAUNTY JUSTIN; 4th, MERRIEHILL SUE C.

Another Wisconsin Morgan has gone north of the border to take up Canadian citizenship. Karene Heimstead's lovely show mare Elena Linsley Clifford 08510 (Squire Gates x Linsley's Lynella) has been sold to the Dr. B. W. Solomon family of Fort Frances, Ontario, Canada. She will be shown by daughter Maxine in open and breed classes next year under the tutelage of Joyce Soboleski.

Doris Norton of Monroe, Wisconsin, on a recent horse buying jaunt to Kentucky with friend Donna Roberts, made several stops in Illinois to view some Mid-States Morgans. Among them the O'Neill Morgan Horse Farm and Emerald Acres of Manteno, Arkomia Acres of Monee and Weathervane Farm of Chicago Heights. Doris has sold her handsome two year old gelding Fashion's Gay Again 14249 (HyLee's Windsong x Fillaine) to Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Rebechini of Park Ridge, Illinois. The Mid-States club wishes to welcome these new Morgan owners.

Mr. Ronald Feldsein of Bourbonnais, Illinois has purchased the half-Morgan gelding Emerald's Irish Luck from the Osmans of Emerald Acres, where both Lucky and young Ron will remain in training under western tack until spring.

Also down Manteno way, O'Neill Morgan Horse Farm reports the sale of the brood mare Commanding "A" by O'Neill's Commander to Florence Eaton of North Hampton, Massachusetts.

Dorothy Colburn tells us she finally made the Illinois Stock Horse Association 100 mile trail ride held in the Giant City State Park in southern Illinois this year. She and her 13 year old gelding Master O'Tonio 10662 (Archie "O" x Tejas Ozarks Countess), who to her knowledge was the only Morgan among over 300 horses, and another member, Virginia Blake on her saddlebred mare, had many adventures and came away with such enthusiasm that more of us are determined to swell the Morgan ranks on next year's ride.

The October Mid-States meeting was held at Laverne and Rae Miller's La Rae Dee Acres in Downers Grove, Illinois on Sunday, October 25. Xmas party plans were finalized and the nominating committee for the January election was selected. High points are being tabulated for presentation of awards at the December 6 Christmas party. The Emerald Acres Award to the junior member with the greatest number of blues for the season has been a hotly contested race and will end with at least three juniors 'way out in front. These junior members will sponsor a raffle at the Christmas party and the winner will receive a year's subscription to The Morgan Horse . . . nice idea, kids.

Mid-western area Morgan Horse Club directors and interested members are making arrangements for an early winter meeting in Springfield, Illinois to discuss and formulate plans for a Midwest Regional All-Morgan Show. It has long been the desire of Morgan owners in this part of the country to play host to the nation's Morgans in this ideal

Some of the news had to be held over because of the large show issue, so we hope that you will bear with any repetition of news. The biggest news this month is that the dates for our 1965 All-Morgan Show are established and the grounds secured as well as the Judges. The dates will be July 30-31, Aug. 1., at the Sacramento State Fair Grounds. The judges will be two highly qualified men. Since this will be a show with classes on Friday night the group felt that two Judges would be necessary. Blair Smith from Montague, California will be the Western Judge as well as all the classes on Friday night. Mr. Smith judged the Oregon All Morgan Show this year in Eugene. For the halter and English classes the nationally known judge James Kiser, a professor from the Animal Science Dept. of Iowa State University, Ames, Iowa has been selected as the other judge. Mr. Kiser has had the experience of judging at the National. With these two fine judges and the excellent facilities it should rate as number one on your show calendar this coming year.

The biggest activity for our group in October was the annual fall trail ride. It was a big success and president Chas. Sutfin wishes to express his appreciation to Hank and Louise Boyd for arranging the ride and Janice and Jay Bailey for the fine steak dinner and to Jeanie Sutfin for the excellent breakfast. The weather was perfect as our group gathered at Mount Tamalpais in Marin County. The terrain varies from gently rolling hills to steep wooded trails. The ride traversed around beautiful Lake Lagunitas and into the tall timber with the sun sending down its light in slivers through the trees. We passed many deer on our way and they scattered ahead. Saturday evening Jay and Janice fired up the coals and tossed on huge tender steaks. Those of you who do not take advantage of these rides are missing great fun and some beautiful scenes.

Recent sales include: Daisy Gay (Dapper Dan x Vernodda Vermont) from Velma Wagoner to John and Polly Bee from Ojai. Daisy is in foal to Gay Ethan. Analin, belonging to the Lavignes, is also in foal to Gay Ethan. Grapevine tells us that Roper has moved to Red Fox Stables . . . from Earl Herring in Chico. Jay Bailey called to tell us about his new purchase. This is an 8 year old dark chestnut stallion, Hillaway Jarmen (Milaca Major x Susetta Jarnette) bred by Dr. R. B. Graves of Red Wing, Minnesota. Jay says he reins on a dime and seemed very pleased with his new purchase. We are all eager to see him perform.

Show Results: On October 10, 1964, at the Stanislaus County Fair Grounds, Kelly's Jim owned by Kay Schultz and ridden by Donna Yialouris took a 4th in open trail class and a 1st in English Pleasure open. Maqueen owned by Bert and Cynthia Stevenson ridden by Cynthia won the Western Pleasure class, open. Maqueen also placed 3rd in the trail class. Deanne owned by Don and Loretta Breazeal was shown in a junior showmanship class 13 and under and she placed 2nd, shown by Larry Byrd. Siskiyou Lady, owned by the Floyd Mansker family did things up right in Pomona. Floyd called to list her wins and the call must have cost him a fortune by the time he stopped listing the wins: High Point Trophy, High Point Junior, 1st in English Equitation, open, 1st Horsemanship, 1st English Pleasure, 2nd, Australian Pursuit, 2nd Trotting race, 2nd Pleasure Driving, 3rd English open, 3rd English Stake, 3rd Morgan Performance, 6th Halter, 5th English Pleasure (novice) and 2nd Parade class. Whew! What a day for Lady and Lorraine. At the same show Maqueen placed 3rd in Western Pleasure and Lavonne Houlton's horse placed 8th in a showmanship class.

As correspondent I wish to extend, on behalf of all our group, the very merriest of holidays to you and your Morgans . . . from all of the members of the Northern California Morgan Horse Club, A Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year.

THE BACK-YARD HORSE by Peggy Jett Pittenger, 203 pp., illus., pub. by A. S. Barnes and Co., Inc., 8 East 36th Street, New York 16, New York. $7.50.

It is refreshing indeed to find a book that does not assume that the only goal of the family horse owner is eventual success in the hunt field. Mrs. Pittenger knows her material. Her facts are useful, and her advice is sound. Her experience is wide, her own backyard horses include representatives of several breeds, including a Morgan, her mare Tippy Dee 06510.

It is too bad to offer any criticism of a book so generally good as this one, especially when Mrs. Pittenger states, "A Morgan makes an ideal family horse." Yet her diatribes against the owners of show Morgans, when pre-

The October meeting of the New Mexico Morgan Club was held in connection with a dinner and social evening at Robin Hood Inn, Albuquerque. There is little business on our agenda at this time of year, however, plans for a Pleasure Ride in the Albuquerque area on November 22nd were discussed. Our Spring Ride enjoyed a fine turnout of members and guests, and the crisp November weather of New Mexico should contribute to making our Fall activity even more enjoyable and well-attended.

Several New Mexico exhibitors are planning to attend the Arizona State Fair this year. The Arizona group has done some fine promotion work, and the classes at their Fair reflect their enthusiastic support. From New Mexico they are gaining entries from the Bantas of Santa Fe and the Mulvaneys, Byers and Earl Skinner of Albuquerque.

Dr. Wallace Beil of Las Vegas has his cart and harness in use now, and reports that his nice bay mare Sherillette (Dorset's Foxfire x Fruita) is driving well. He is looking forward to next year's driving classes — we hope that Sherillette will not be the only Beil entry as he has some other good young mares also!

Recent sales in the New Mexico area number two — Earl and Lillian Buss of Los Alamos have been enthusiastic

The last of the Morgan shows are over and we must all wait until next spring for them to start again. The Syracuse All Morgan Show went over with a big bang. The show was very good with well filled classes and good horses. It was nice to see that most everyone, grooms and all, were properly dressed for the ring.

That report in the National Horseman, that Spring Delite had died was, I'm thankful to say, very much in error. She was at the Syracuse Show and won the Pleasure Stake.

Mary Dyckes' ex-mare, Windcrest Sparkle, now owned by Camelot Farms won both the Roadster under saddle and Roadster to bike.

Mrs. Joy Platz, a new P.O.M.B. member showed her gelding, Jomando, winning the stock horse class and taking third in Western Trail. Jomando placed 6th in Men's Western Pleasure with Stan Foster doing the riding. Joy's daughter, Susan, rode Mrs. R. A. Zimmerman's mare, Coffee Royal, and won 3rd in Equitation and 6th in Junior Exhibitor. Susan also placed 7th in the Western Pleasure Stake on Jomando.

Helene Dreisbach rode Coffee Royal in the Roadster under saddle and placed 3rd.

After the show was over, a large group went to Raphaels for dinner taking over one room completely. Tim White and John Diehl were there, along with Anna Ela and Nancy, Jeanne and Fred Herrick, Mary and Spook Dyckes, Helen Brando, Lyman Orcutt, the Morrells and the Clyde Norris's, Ayelien Richards, Dayton Sumner and the Coes.

Also seen at the show were the Willeys and the Lantz's. They came to see Tibsun, whom the Willeys sold to Dr. Brown and is now owned by Ayelien Richards.

The Harrisburg show provided a lot of fun, too. Waseeka's Nocturne retired the Windcrest Donna Lee Challenge Trophy and later held his own party at the Waseeka tack room. Mrs. Powers was the gracious hostess with Mr. and Mrs. Lydon assisting. The Orcutts, Anna and Nancy Ela, the Dick Poux's, Bernard Holtz and the Wests were among those seen at the celebration.

Pat Tataronis took a terrific ribbing because the night before she had been dumped in the pony roadster class, digging up the turf a bit, but she left the party and WON the pony roadster stake. She also rode Gay Cavalier in the Morgan Horse Stake Class winning Reserve Champion.

The Holtz's good mare, Trophy's Emerald won the Junior Morgan and the Under 15 hand class and placed 3rd in the Morgan Stake. Dick Poux's stallion, Oakwood Adam took 2nd in the Junior Morgan class.

Helene Dreisbach reports her mare Wilderness Blaze is in foal to their stud, Pride's Pat. She and Joy Platz tells me they had a demonstration of Morgan versatility there for the Temple University animal husbandry class, conducted by Dr. Rile, a well known veterinarian. They used Coffee Royal, Jomando, Arrow and Turnpike Kay Date. Joy's daughter, Susan, worked Jomando in western stock, pleasure, English and then put him over the jump course. The demonstration was covered by both the North Penn Reporter and the Philadelphia Inquirer. They both had nice spreads on Morgans, complete with photos. That is certainly good publicity for the Morgan horse and really puts them in front of the public eye.

Dot Engelskirger was recently elected a director in the Morgan Horse category of the Erie Hunt and Saddle Club. She joins Lou Turner in this office. These two girls really worked to put over the Morgan division of the Erie show this summer and see that the classes were filled.

This is the time of the year when the "Show" Morgans relax and so do their owners. Have you tried ski-joring with your Morgan? This winter sport is gaining in popularity in our country, and what horse should be better suited for it than a Morgan. Guaranteed to put you in shape!

Connecticut Morgan Horse Club

By THELMA SWEET
Sweet Acres
Uncasville, Conn.

The annual Connecticut Morgan Trail Ride was held in Nehantic Forest, East Lyme. Twenty-four horses and two ponies participated. There were 14 registered Morgans (Three of which were stallions), five registered half-Morgans, one half-Arabian, one registered Quarter horse, and four of unknown breeding. The day was ideal, typical New England Indian Summer. The ride lasted for two and one half hours and was all on dirt roads. Some of the riders changed horses so more than one member of a family might enjoy a horse. Brad Scussel rode his gelding, Cantor for a while then took his coming three year old filly, Bainridge Valentine for a spin. Following the ride, folks enjoyed just talking horse and eating their lunch. The committee under the able chairman Dorothy Scussel furnished the beverages, coffee and hot chocolate. Dot made all the arrangements for the ride and she deserves a lot of credit.

Sally T. Hounslea of Tralas Farm, Stonington, called and told me her four year old, Broadwall Spangle has attended eight Class A shows and captured six blues, 3 championships and a total of sixteen ribbons in all. Dusty's last win for the year was at Deerfield Horse Show. She won the Junior Under Saddle and received 4th in open Morgans In Hand. Sally says Dusty will be spending the winter at the Lydons.

The Brookses of Story Book Stable, Oakdale, are kept busy this fall. They have two more horses in for training. Shar-Lyn's M. D. (Dr. Faustus x Orcland Queen Bess) a bay yearling will start to learn his ABCs. Mr. and Mrs. C. Slate of Portland, Conn. are his proud owners. Townshend Vigalvin, the pretty stallion, owned by the Lesards of New Hampshire is being kept in trim at Story Book.

Merry Bell Chimes and Merry Marea owned by Merry Legs Farm will spend the winter at the McCulloch Farm in Old Lyme. This swells the total to an even dozen. Looks like the Vasiloffs have their work cut out for them this winter. Plans for a 1965 competitive trail ride in lower Connecticut, to start at the McCulloch Farm, are underway. Anyone interested in such a ride is invited to contact Mrs. Vasiloff. It is hoped to encourage greater Morgan competition in such rides.

Met Joan Rice and her mother at our annual meeting. Joan has a three year old bay gelding Sunflower Dagwood (Captain Sunflower x Sunflower Daisy). He came from Bob Riley, What Cheer, Iowa. This is Joan's first Morgan and I know you all join me in wishing her the very best with him.

Nabob's Lisa (Nabob x Long Hill's Jessica) captured a good second in open competition at the New England Hunt Breeders Assoc. Show in Litchfield. Lisa belongs to the Clarkes in New Preston, Conn. Received a nice letter from Professor Kays from the University of Connecticut. He said that the University has sold the good two year old filly, U. C. Symphony (Panfield x Sheba) to Mad River Morgans, Sandy Creek, New York owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Drowne and Mr. and Mrs. G. Williams. U. C. Symphony won the filly foal class at the 1962 National Morgan Horse Show. She is full sister to the University's winning stallion foal at the 1964 National. Our secretary, Diane Farley advised us that the Roster is ready for printing as of October 23.

We were shown a sample and it was yellow in color and a very convenient size. Hope you all get one.

A meeting of the C.H.S.A., Inc., was held on October 23 at the East Hartford Federal Savings and Loan Association in Glastonbury. There were approximately fifty members and guests present. The revision of the by-laws in regard to the election of Directors was not carried at this meeting. It was suggested that this revision be submitted again but include an appropriate clause stating that if any Officer or Director shall miss more than three meetings, without an acceptable excuse to the President, shall be automatically dropped from the Executive Committee. It was voted to open the Connecticut Morgan Horse Show next year to other than Connecticut Morgans, to affiliate with C.H.S.A., to keep some classes restricted to Connecticut Morgans and the date of June 13th was set for the next show. It was mentioned during the discussion that other states have opened their show and have done so successfully. It was also brought out that the All Morgan Shows of New Hampshire and Maine have half Morgan classes, but nothing definite was decided about this for our coming show. I know Oregon has Half Morgan classes and I've seen Half Morgan classes written up in Vermont and there must be many more states that sponsor them. I like to think when a person owns and loves a half-Morgan it's like Horror story of the month is the complete destruction by fire of Roy Taylor's barn in Medina. Lost were one horse and six calves. Three horses were rescued.

As most of us know, Roy has been a very sick man during the past several years. Mrs. Taylor has taken over the management of the furniture factory, but it has been necessary to disperse the Royalcrest Morgans. The handsome redwood barn had been sold to Jack Timmons, Quarter-horse man from East Aurora, but the deal had not been completed.

Neighbors discovered the fire at about 4:30 in the afternoon of October 29th. The flames had already gained so much headway that the fire department was helpless. The two Morgan stallions, Royalcrest Parader and Royalcrest Thor were in the barn at the time. Both were rescued with a gelding (Quarter-horse) belonging to Mr. Timmons. Mr. Timmons' prize Quarterhorse stallion, purchased only three weeks ago, was stabled at the end of the barn where the fire started and was lost, as were six Hereford calves in their stalls.

Two others of the Taylor horses are staying with friends. Royalcrest Ethan is presently at the Vince Rogers' Sherimill Stable in Akron and Royalcrest Linda Lee is with Art and Dotty Buisch in Newfane. Had these two Morgans been at home they would probably have been impossible to rescue, since their stalls were in an unfavorable location.

Cause of the fire is undetermined.

Mad River Morgan Farm at Sandy Creek reports the purchase of the 6 year old stallion, Windcrest Mr. Success, by Upwey Ben Don x Ingrid. He is a full brother to the famous Dona Lee.

The Arthur Buisches of Newfane (formerly of Lyndonville) have sold their Morgans to Mr. and Mrs. Gene Riffle and their close friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ziegler of Ashland, Ohio. Included in the package deal were Springhill Flicka (purchased by the Buisches from the Riffles several years ago) and her 2 year old daughter, Sunlyn Sunicka by Sherimill Sunrise; also Flicka's suckling filly, Pirate's Lady, by Pirate Gold, son of Sherimill Sunrise. Dotty Buisch's many friends will be glad to know that she is feeling much better after a year of miserable health.

The Myron Cranstons and daughter, Gail, have bought a new farm in Central Square for their Morgans. It will be called the Triple C Ranch, and all visitors are welcome.

Archie Greene of Cazenovia has purchased the handsome colt, Dyberry Lyndon, by Gay Cavalier x Dyberry Nekomis, from Dr. C. D. Parks of Honesdale, Pa.

Miss Sue Venier of Lafayette, N. Y. has sold the mare Lippitt Ethan Georgia with filly foal by Lippitt Moro Alert at her side to Mr. Henry I. Cristal of Yorktown Heights, N. Y.

John Mahoney of Jamesville has sold his 2 year old filly, Hillwind's Bridget, to Mr. R. L. Stevenson of Connecticut. The Stevensons also own Bridget's full brother, Hillwind's Macduff.

The Samatuls' Big-Little Morgan Farm at Esperance reports the sale of the weanling colt, B. L. Enchantelect, by UVM Enchantor x O-At-Ka Sealect Lass, to Miss Polly Plumptre. This colt was second at the N. Y. All Morgan show in a good class of twelve. Good luck, Polly, with your first Morgan.

And now it is time to say goodbye to Betty Plauth. Betty, who has been our fine reporter for the past year, feels that she must give up the column. Home duties are pressing and there just isn't enough time for everything in the Plauth household. Thank you Betty, for a job well done.

Beginning with the January-February issue, Muriel Gordon, Trefoil Farm, Middleburgh, N. Y., will take over. We hope that you will all give her the same help you have given the rest of us in our time.

Merry Christmas to us all!

News from North Dakota

By REINIE FEIL
Ashley, North Dakota

The fall weather is upon us again, with frosty mornings and cool and windy days. Although it has been a rather dry fall, the rainfall has been about one inch less than average for the month of October. And so as the weather goes it brings about the usual fall chores. Having the barns ready, the hay in the yard, and the feed bin filled. After all this hard work out of the way it is time for enjoyment with the sixty four model colts. Bringing them in from the pasture ready for weaning, halter breaking, deworming and getting them in tip top shape. I suppose it is with every one else as it is with us, that many hours are spent with these animals (colts) but the more time you spend with them the more you enjoy them. Sooner or later it will pay off, not for only money wise but the pleasure you get by showing them. The more we work with these Morgans the better we like them.

Speaking of Morgans, we here at Ashley were more than pleased on Sunday, October 18th, when a goodly number of the McClusky Saddle Club paid us a visit. The following were here to see what a Morgan really looks like.

This reporter has been traveling here and there quite often these past months, the most recent trip being to Topeka, Kansas for Stuart Hazard's Morgan Production Sale, October 3rd. Also attending the sale were some of the VIPs from the Morgan Horse Club, among whom were J. Cecil Ferguson, Walter Kane, Dr. Frances Schaeffer, Dr. George Budd, J. Roy Brunk and many other notable Morganites, who returned home with some of the sale offerings.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Capelle of Highland, Ill., came away with one of the top fillies of the sale. Named Funquest Knoxeta, she is a fancy chestnut yearling sired by Pukwana and out of Stelletta. Pendleton Farms of Belle Rive, Ill., also acquired a few of the Pukwana fillies.

I was especially glad to have the chance to see Mr. Hazard's well known stallion, The Brown Falcon. Shades of Justin Morgan! That's just what he is. There could be no doubt, even in the most critical eye, as to what this stately little brown horse is. Just a Morgan, that's all! And he stamps his foals with his mark too. Also standing at Funquest Farms is "Brownie's" number one son Funquest Falcon, an outstanding young dark chestnut stallion who has made such a good impression on all who have seen him, he also is leaving his mark on his first foals this year. Another son of Flyhawk, is an attractive bay, Chief Red Hawk, who really puts a trot on his foals. Then there is Pukwana, a flashy big chestnut son of Senator Graham, who is siring some very promising foals, and also the young Funquest Benmore, a son of Upwey King Benn, who looks as though he'll make quite a harness horse.

The day following the sale, we had a chance to get out to the farm and see the rest of the Funquest Morgans. If you want to see Morgans galore, this is the place. No matter where you turn, your eyes will focus on Morgans of all ages and sizes. Out in the pasture we were met by one of the most personable young foals to be seen anywhere. A statuesque little bay fellow, he followed us all about the pasture, while we had a look at the rest of this year's foals. This particular little fellow turned out to be a son of Pukwana and out of Stelletta, one of the most beautiful mares in the field. Next we were encountered by Liza Lee's exquisite chestnut filly by the Brown Falcon and another 'Brownie' filly, a chunky little black attractively marked with white and out of Dot S. Fanny. As we left the pasture my little bayfriend followed us to the gate, and I must admit it wouldn't have been at all hard to take him home.

In an adjoining meadow was the grand old matron, Linbar (Barberry x Elberta Linsley) and her bewitching chestnut filly sired by The Brown Falcon, who has one of the sweetest heads to be seen anywhere.

Of course we had to see Modelette, a lovely bay mare, who did quite well in the show ring a few years back. Now she is retired to the broodmare rank and is producing some good quality foals for Mr. Hazard.

After our tour of the farm was ended we said adieu to all the Morgan loves and we departed for St. Louis. The visit to Funquest Farms will be one we will long remember.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Werts attended the Ric-Lan Meadows dispersal sale in Bolivar, Mo., on October 4th, and came back with a colt. A dark bay, Kedron Black Socks, he is sired by Sunsico (Congo x Nellanne) and out of Gamie's Swan Song (St. Gamie x Golden Dawn). He's a high headed little individual, with a good trot and has that Morgan aire about him. It looks as though Pat and Neal are running a stallion farm as they now have five stallions and two mares. Hope they get a filly for a change this spring.

Eight Morgans were seen competing at the Diabetic Horse Show at Missouri Stables, in St. Louis. It was good to see Jeanne White's little stallion come down this way from Springfield, Ill.; hope she sees fit to send him back next year. First place went to Copper Cloud, owned by Jeanne White, over Congo's Pride owned by the Paul Capelles. Third went to DeJarnette's King and Nancy Davis, with fourth to Fancy Dan ridden by Barbara Monfort, and fifth went to June Flight and Renee M. Page.

Merry Christmas to all Morgan lovers everywhere from the Ohio Morgan Horse Association. As we are about to enter the new year in a few weeks, many thoughts are brought to mind. I wonder when the first horse show is? Or is it too early to start getting ready for the ring? Isn't it exciting, just waiting for Spring to come?

Right: MAPLE RIDGE BAR-GO 11382, owned by James P. Gallagher, Glackmor Farms, Lansing, Michigan, Chuck Johnson, up.

The JMHA held its annual fall trail ride on Sunday, October 25 as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Phillips of East Lansing. The weather was perfect for horses and riders to enjoy the ride over 400 acres of land which is being landscaped for development. Over 25 horses and riders were present. After about two hours of riding, everyone gathered in the barn where we had delicious hamburgers and dishes to pass.

The monthly meeting was held on Saturday, October 31. Mr. G. Cameron Buchanan spoke to the club on the "Liability of Horse Owners." Well qualified to speak on the subject, Mr. Buchanan is a lawyer and associated with the insurance business. At present, the award banquet will be held at the November meeting.

Mr. Hubert G. Bunyan from Ithaca reports the sale of his two year old chestnut filly, Quiz Kid's Lady, to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chard of Dansville. Mr. Bunyan still owns her full brother a weanling by Quiz Kid out of Lisa Lynne. Lisa Lynne is bred back to Quiz and is due to foal in June. Kathy Gallagher of Lansing, reports the purchase by her father of Maple Ridge Bar-Go from Mr. Harold Chard of Dansville. Bar-Go is a well-mannered, ten year old red chestnut stallion and is being trained by Chuck Johnson.

Now that the show season is over I could use a lot more news from club members concerning sales and purchases or just interesting news about their farm or individual horses. I can always use more pictures.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jessor's gelding TWIN-IDA MAJOR LYNN 12727 (Kenisen x Lina), Deanna Stiles, up.

We have been enjoying a beautiful autumn here in Idaho, which partly makes up for the short cold summer. The horses are all heavily coated in preparation for the long days of cold and snow ahead.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Shannon have a new little daughter, born September 9. Kim is back too riding again and probably anxious for little Catherine to grow up enough to share in the sport with her.

Kim, Yvonne, Cecil and myself made a trip to Lewiston a few days ago, and Sally Shenemon took us for a cart ride behind Jeato's Sid. He is coming along nicely and the daily work-out really shows. Sally told us that the Harley Longfellows had lost their little filly. Cause of death unknown. She also told us that the Ray Ellsworth, Sr., family have moved to Spokane, Wash.

The Marion McPhersons of Grangeville have a nice colt out of Luckie Nuggett and by Shawalla Allen. We hear little from the Marion Bowden's of Kendrick now as their new cafe keeps them pretty well tied down.

We have sold our yearling gelding Vandaleer Tony to Claude Mcferon of Moscow, Idaho. Tony is by Shawalla Buck and is really a beauty with his golden chestnut coloring and light mane and tail.

Morgans on Parade

By JOHN WARD

Reprinted from the Providence Sunday Journal, September 27, 1964

At ringside, horse shows are colorful spectacles. The equestriennes are young, pretty and derbied. The gentlemen riders are in jodhpurs and tweed jackets. The sleek mounts have the temperamental tautness of a prima donna making her debut and scads of blue ribbons are all about.

Behind the scenes, there are lunches of hamburgers and frankfurters, cock-tails on a bale of hay, dust clouds that never settle, sweating blacksmiths, saddle soap, sponges, syringes and veterinarians and soggy, straw-filled pathways through stable areas teeming with people, horses and vehicles.

In such a setting, a dozen Rhode Islanders and as many horses recently spent four days and nights. It was a marathon known as the National Morgan Horse Show at Northampton, Mass. they and their mounts came home physically exhausted but with a feedbag full of ribbons and a couple of silver bowls to show for their efforts.

One of the top awards, the Cavalcade Americana, went to the president of the national Morgan Horse Club, J. Cecil Ferguson of Broadwall Farm, Greene, a Providence manufacturer of sugar machinery. Mr. Ferguson had six entries from his 40-horse stables.

Mr. Ferguson drove an 1890 Victoria carriage, behind Parade and Broadwall Drum Major. His footman was his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bruce Ferguson. The passengers were Mrs. Ferguson and their daughter, Meg, attired in 19th century costumes.

The 22nd annual show, the largest single horse breed event in the world, drew 550 entries from as far away as California. It also marked the 175th anniversary of the birth of the first of the breed, Justin Morgan. He was named for his owner, Justin Morgan, a Vermont singing master, who had taken the stud colt in payment of a debt from a Springfield, Mass., man in 1791.

With Arabian, thoroughbred and Dutch forebears, the horse, Justin Morgan became a rugged stallion that could outpull and outrun any other Vermont horse. His descendants became America's first new breed of horse, the Morgan. They worked on the farm, pulled the family buggy to church on Sundays, and carried the village doctor on his calls. In the mid-1800's, with selective Jack Marks of Noblesville, had a very good show season this year. She won a 2nd in the yearling halter at the Gold Cup Show in July. Then Karen Marks 12 year old daughter of Jack and Doyne, showed Paula at Hamilton County 4H and brought home Junior Grand Champion, Reserve Senior Grand Champion and a 4-H Showmanship blue. Karen and Paula were then eligible to show 4H at the Indiana State Fair, where they went on to take a 3rd in the yearling halter class, while showing against all breeds. In the Morgan Division of the Indiana State Fair Doyne showing, Paula placed 1st. A blue ribbon is always the best way to close a show season for the year.

Ann's High Society 010359 (Lippitt Moro Ash x Ruthven's Isabel Ann) is owned by Henry Fawcett and shown by Pete Miller both of Elkhart, Ind. At Muncie I.S.H.A. Fall Show in September, Pete rode "Ann" to first place in Western Pleasure. Ann is in foal this year to Richard H. also owned by Henry Fawcett, and Pete tells me time is really passing slowly for him anticipating the arrival of the new foal.

Appearing in the Elkhart paper was a very interesting and informative article telling of a special stop-over made by

The year 1965 is just around the corner, and with it comes our first activity of the new year, the Hesperia Competitive Trail Ride which was also sponsored by the M.H.C. of S. C. in 1964. This was a very successful ride and the sponsorship is indeed a feather in our cap as a great many horse people attend, which alone has excellent promotional value for the Morgan breed . . . the ride is again under the capable leadership of Marjorie Hambly of San Bernardino and the Co-Chairman is Mr. Roy Baker of Altadena. Dates for the ride are Jan. 8-9, 1965, first week-end after New Years and our chairman informs us now is the time to start conditioning your horses. In addition to the N.A.T.R.C. Competition, which is tough, we will have a "Tenderfoot Class" for 3 and 4 year olds which are not permitted in the open, as well as just plain Pleasure riding for others. Marjorie Hambly's mare, Keystone's Rome Beauty 010290, is the Reserve Champion Competitive Trail Ride Horse. She competed in six of the 10 competitive trail rides held in 1964 under the auspices of the North American Trailride Conference . . . Marjorie rode her on four of the rides, taking a third in Scottsdale, Arizona; fourth in Los Angeles; fourth in Calistoga; and second in Concord. Friends, Clyde Brown and Keith Martin, rode her at San Geronimo Mountain for a third and at Hesperia where she was second, Marjorie being the manager of these two rides with no time to compete. Keystone's Rome Beauty is now the high scoring Morgan horse on these rides for the season as well as Reserve Champion in the Heavyweight Division. Her points in the over-all in all divisions are also second. She will receive her awards at the Cow Palace in San Francisco during the afternoon performance of the biggest horse show in the world on November 1st. In my book that is promotion in the highest degree for the Morgan Horse and congratulations to you Marjorie on a job well done.

That other good performing Morgan on trail rides, Little Joe Morgan, owned and ridden by Frances Huling of Sonoma, will be awarded Champion for the top spot in the Lightweight Division. His score was the third highest in all divisions.

It is interesting to note that wherever the Morgans have been campaigned on these rides they have done well and placed high. A Morgan won the Sweepstakes at Scottsdale, Arizona but was not taken on any other rides. This was Combo of Sundown, ridden by Ned Curtis. Mrs. Sid Spencer of Arroyo Grande rode in only one ride, at Santa Barbara, on a mare in foal, and placed second. Think what these capable horses might do if their owners made more rides.

Morgans are a natural for this type of competition and with a little conditioning you too may have a winner stabled in your back yard. Why not give your Morgan a chance! Brochures for the Hesperia ride are available from Marjorie Hambly, 979 Date St., San Bernardino, Calif.

Arizona Morgans

By SUE HALLIWELL
Rt. 1, Box 712
Buckeye, Arizona

The Morgan Horse Association of Arizona was very pleased to read that the Board of Directors of the National Club are considering having three National shows, spread out around the country. We have sent in a letter advising that Arizona would be very pleased to host the Western National, of South Western Regional. We have most excellent facilities in the new Phoenix Trotting Park now under construction west of Phoenix, due to open January, 1965. There is stabling for 1,000 horses in fire-proof, pre-cast concrete stalls and superior facilities for the exhibitor. We feel that Arizona is more centrally located to more states than is California, and has one of the finest facilities for horses and horsemen to offer to the Morgan exhibitor.

With this in mind we held our October meeting at Phoenix Trotting Park, giving our members a Hay Rack ride around the establishment, acquainting them with the facilities they have to offer. After the tour, we all adjourned to the home of Frank Good for a steak dinner. Frank had dug a huge barbecue in his back yard, built a fire of mesquite wood and cooked up some 40 steaks. Salads and home made ice cream were supplied by other members and everyone had a wonderful dinner and time. We really had a big turn out, including a new family from White Tanks, Pat and Marilyn Riley and their two sons. The Rileys are recently moved here from California, but unfortunately they are having to return to California the first of the year. They have become convinced that the Morgan is what they want though, and will be looking up their nearest Morgan Club when they return home.

Troy Ranch, Globe reports the arrival of two foals by Troydo (Condo x Lizzie Mitchell), with two more on the way. Poplar Dinah (Jack Sprat x Josephine Romanesque) had a bay filly and the paint mare Lady had a chestnut filly, a twin to last year's colt.

Jane Curtises gelding Donodon

(Mango x Donna Dee) had quite a run in with some cholla cactus, as did his rider. Seems Don is quite used to picking his own way among the cactus, but being the obedient steed, he changed course when his mistress decided to help him around a big cholla, only thing wrong was that Jane didn't see the little cholla, and Don ran smack into it. It was a long walk over to Taliesen West where they tried again to remove the needles, this time using the water soaking method, but it didn't work. They called the vet to meet them back at Powder Horn Ranch, and they took another hike into the ranch. To make a long story short, it took the vet over 1½ hours to pull all the stickers out of Don and Jane, and to patch up the blisters on the feet of the three trail riders that had started out earlier in the day.

Sue Halliwell has been taking advantage of their new surroundings by driving their mares around the many dirt roads that surround them. They are getting to be a familiar sight as they drive over fields and down roads and landing strips. Sure hope a "flying farmer" or "crop duster" doesn't decide to land while the horse and cart are on the landing strip, what a mess.

Pacific Northwest News

By LOUISE BECKLEY
P. O. Box 250
Mt. Vernon, Washington

A Merry Christmas to all our Morgan friends everywhere and may 1965 be a Happy Morgan Year all around.

To mention some of the Morgan achievements in the Pacific Northwest for 1964 let us begin by reporting that we have many new owners of Morgans and that people in this area are more and more realizing the value of the Morgan as a family pleasure horse as well as a beautiful show horse.

Moving the Washington State University Open Horse Show and Judging School from Pullman to Yakima was a big change for horse people in Washington and will give the show an opportunity to continue to grow. Plans are underway to improve last year's accommodations and make this one of the truly big shows in the West. Over 800 horses were entered this year.

Our own Pacific Northwest Morgan Show held in June was our 10th All-Morgan show and cause for celebration, the most entries ever.

Another big step in the right direction for Morgans in 1964 was the completion and showing of the Justin Morgan film. This has been shown with pride many times throughout Washington, Idaho, Montana, Oregon and British Columbia and has given a great deal of pleasure as well as promoting our breed.

The last show of the season was the Pacific International held every year in Portland, Oregon in October. Sorry we don't have pictures yet but the results of this show follow:

Stallions, foaled in 1963: Won by SUNNY-VALE VALENTINO, owned by Mr. and Mrs. David Olson, Eugene, Oregon; 2nd, PEMBERTON'S PEMFIELD, owned by Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Pemberton, Olympia, Washington; 3rd, BECKRIDGE BEAU FIELD, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Beckley.

During the past several years the Pacific Northwest and Oregon Morgan groups have sponsored a booth at the P. I. With a new leasing arrangement this year the only space available was across the aisle from the Pacific Arabian display also with a film.

North Dakota News

By REINIE FEIL
Ashley, North Dakota

There are some Morgan horses in North Dakota, but very little is heard about them. Most of us are either too busy or else we are too far away to take in some of the Morgan shows. I would say that there are about fifty or sixty registered Morgans in the state. They are owned by about eight families. These are about fifty to two hundred miles apart. And this I believe is one reason that we are not progressing the way we would like to.

About two years ago we held our first meeting at Jamestown, to organize a small club. Since then we have had about eight meetings and everyone really enjoys them. Different films have been shown, which are always a great interest to all. Also every one tries to take some pictures of their horses and brings them to the next meeting and by so doing it helps us to see where we can improve our horses and even ourselves in handling these noble animals.

Mr. John L. Weatherly of Jamestown who is our chairman, has a mare named Miss Dolly 08953. Her sire is Dude Spar 8227 and her dam is Rose Mala A 06211. She is from the Hune-will Co. stock of California. She came to Rapid City, South Dakota, then owned by Mr. Larry Colburn, who moved from California to South Dakota. This mare was used for ranch work as a lead horse in the mountains.

Mr. Ray Gaier of Cleveland has the following horses: a chestnut stallion named Jesse James 11932, whose sire is Model 8494; dam, Shy Bird 08519. Model goes to Chocolate 7586 to Linsley 7233 to General Gates 666. Shy Bird goes to Dark Orchid 05580 to King DeJarnette 7818 to Jubilee King 7570.

Chestnut mare, Rookies Girl 09667, sire Lippitt Rookie 8229, dam Allen Dawn 05170;

Chestnut mare, Dakota Sue 09666, sire Lippitt Rookie 8229, dam Dakota Snowshoe 07811;

Chestnut mare, Donnie's Snooks 012835, sire Douglas Fred 9010, dam Donaldeen 07568;

Chestnut mare, Donnie's Dutchess 012836, sire Douglas Fred 9010, dam Donaldeen 07568;

Chestnut mare, Donnie's Lass 013110, sire Douglas Fred 9010, dam Donaldeen 07568.

We have been raising Morgans since 1949 and we think there is not another breed of horses that can be called an all-purpose horse like the Morgans. We believe they can do anything you ask them but talk.

We have seven brood mares, this year we were blessed with two colts and four fillies. We are using two stallions this year, Amber Chief 12688, Palomino, and King Richard 11913, a chestnut.

We have two mares by Red Correll 8299, one by Bay Rocket 10392, one by Dakota Thunder Cloud 9026, and the others by King Richard. Besides these we have young stock sired by King Richard and R. B. Colonel. Colonel we sold to Don Streich of Tyler, Minn.

A three year old stallion, Kota Thunder Hawk 13515, recently left for Ft. Collins, Colorado, to spend some time with our son Gary Feil, who intends to show him in that part of the country.

One who has done more than any of us lives at Devils Lake — her name is Alice Schwols. I do not have the information on her horses but she has some good ones. She attends more shows than all of us others combined. I do not know how she finds time but she is always there.

Mr. Ray Anderson of Fargo is another who has Morgans and I believe he is known by some Morgan fans of the East. If there is something you want to know about Morgans ask Ray and he will tell you.

total of 35 Morgans entered. They came from seven states. Pennsylvania had the most entries with 12, Massachusetts was next with 10 entries, then came New York with 5, New Jersey and Florida had three each and Vermont and New Hampshire had one each. The number of entries in classes were twelve in the under class, eight in the over, seven in the Junior, eleven in the Harness, twelve in the Pleasure and fourteen in the Stake. Morgan people should be proud of the way the Morgans were presented this year. Every horse that entered the ring was well shown. The Harness class particularly was a real crowd pleaser. The Morgan Stake class followed the International Jumping on Friday night and the crowd stayed and watched this good class. Here again the horses were all presented exceptionally well and it was one of the better classes of the whole show. During the workout many a person was sitting on the edge of his chair and clapping hard for favorites. What a workout it was!

The results follow:

Several of our members have been actively keeping the Morgan in front of the public lately. The Curtises have been entering their two geldings, Donodon and Combo of Sundown in all of the local shows in the area, and we average two a month in the fall and winter. These are all open shows and the competition is really rugged. While the Curtises are at the shows, the Halliwells of Desert Morgan Ranch are in Parades and helping give demonstrations of the Morgan horse. Sue again rode Moonbird (Julio x Black Annie S. Sentney) sidesaddle in the Billy Moore Days parade in Goodyear, where they again brought forth much comment. Then the other weekend they trailered Apache De Lu (Ojo De Juan x Ojo De Lu) and Topside Desert Rogue (Broadwall Brigadier x Jerry Bell) up to Camp Verde where they put on a demonstration of the Morgans and his versatility. Both horses were shown in harness, then Apache was changed to English saddle with Pat Larmon doing a beautiful job of showing her, and it was her first time on Apache. Frank Good also took his gelding Warren Malone (Earl Warren x Antellah) and Hugh Larmon rode him Western while Frank did the narration. Camp Verde is the site of the old Fort Verde, and they keep the Cavalry theme going strong up there with a regiment in full dress participating in horsey events all over the state. Therefore they were most interested in the Morgan as they know the big part he played in the early cavalry days and as a Remount stud. The present day members are not too familiar with the Morgan in the flesh, but with the stories they have been told by their granddads, so this was a real eye opener for them.

Merry Christmas to Morgan lovers everywhere, may your holidays be as sweet as a lump of sugar, and your New Year as rosey as a shiney apple.

breeding for speed, the Morgans posted the fastest harness racing times. With the opening of the west, they were trained for working cattle and other ranch purposes.

Since the auto took over as a means of transportation, the emphasis on Morgan horses has been on all-around pleasure use, trail riding and showing under saddle and harness. At the recent Northampton show at the Three County Fair Grounds, the Morgans and their owners competed in nearly 100 classes.

For some of the Rhode Islanders, the show was an opportunity to gain experience both for themselves and their young horses. William W. MacDougall of Bayfield Farm, Potowomut, made up a truck-trailer ranch wagon caravan to haul his daughter, Elizabeth, 14; three of her friends and the gelding U. C. Sparkler, on the 190-mile round trip for one class of competition.

Elizabeth, driving the six year old horse she had trained, came in fourth in a road hack class of at least 20 entries. This was a typical show contest of walk, trot, and canter, hand gallop, backing and standing quietly. After the competition, Elizabeth took her ribbon and the entourage returned home.

Gene St. Germain of Lincoln Street, Woonsocket, was also getting valuable show experience with Broadwall Patrick, in a four-part contest. Broadwall Patrick came in last in the harness race, last in the half mile under saddle, but then placed in the show ring, and won the 500-pound stone boat pulling event. He got a pink ribbon.

Meg Ferguson, 14, was doing well in the pleasure gelding class for youngsters until it came to the log bridge and fir tree obstacles, and then the horse would have no part of them. Later, however, Meg proudly brought back to the Broadwall stables, one of the show's top awards; reserve champion equitation for riders under 18.

Other Rhode Islanders with horses entered were, Mrs. Shirley Laczynski of Grove Street, Woonsocket; Mrs. Robert A. Joslin of Field's Hill Farm, Clayville; Albert F. Parent of Brailey Street, Cumberland; Patricia Robbins, Candy Lane, Cranston and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene K. Rhodes, Great Road, Lincoln.

Our 2 year old filly Shawalla Bittsy has an uncanny ability or sixth sense when it comes to helping a buddy out of trouble. Several weeks ago a neighbor came running to tell me that one of the colts was wrapped up in a coil of telephone wire. We dashed down to the pasture and sure enough he was, but Bittsy was pulling the wire off with her teeth and had all but the last loop off when we got there! A few days after that, Shawalla Dawn got frightened when Kim was longing her and took off with the longe line whipping behind her, she cleared the fence and raced wildly across the pasture. Bittsy cornered her, picked up the longe line and blocked Dawn's efforts to get out of the corner until we got to her! Amazing? Yes — we think so.

H.A. Our membership increased to the largest ever. The monthly meetings were attended by a much greater percentage of members. The quality of Ohio Morgans that were shown in Ohio and elsewhere was unsurpassed and anywhere they were shown, you could always find an Ohio Morgan or two in the top ribbons. Our President and Secretary, Dale and Marilyn Ulrich certainly deserve a big thanks of appreciation as well as our Vice-President and his wife, Bill and Jo McDevitt on the excellent Ohio Directory. So many members did so much for our Association this past year it's hard to recall everything.

The futurity capably handled by Dot Bukey was a tremendous success with the promise of even greater entries in 1965.

Many of us suffered disappointment and dismay at some of the horse shows, but we were always back at the next one trying for the blue. If only one factor was accomplished in 1964, it was the unsurpassed sportsmanship and fairness the O.M.H.A. members displayed at every show. This certainly is one aspect of Morgan promotion all other breed associations in Ohio is envious of. Presenting the Morgan to the public is a thrill and pleasure for all of us and win or lose, our members are always satisfied in each others placings.

Following are the results of the C.O. S.C.A. Fall Round-up, Ashland, Ohio, October 2, 3, 4, 1964:

Open English (13 entries): Won by TROPHY'S BECKY DATE, Fletcher; 2nd, TASTEE'S JUBILEE, Romis; 3rd, REATA'S VELVET GLORY, O'Neill; 4th, THE GAY CONTESSA, Walton; 5th, SEA MIST, Rutledge.

After spending about three hours or so with the Morgans, we invited them to the store for a snack of German Home-made Bologna and crackers.

This was an afternoon well spent and enjoyable to everyone present. Here is hoping that some of these will be future owners of Morgan horses.

Also had a long distance phone call from Mr. Ray Anderson about two weeks ago informing me that he sold his two year old filly to someone in Canada. The way I understand, it was sold in the four figure bracket. Congratulations, Ray.

This past week Mr. John Weatherly of Jamestown, Chairman of our Morgan Club stopped here for a few brief minutes. He stated that in the near future we will have a dinner and some business to take care of.

getting your foot in the door and you just can't wait until you get a registered one.

It was a lively and healthy meeting and I think it's a good organization that can have such a get-together and discussions. The guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Ronald Aaronson from the University of Connecticut. He spoke on 4H and how the pleasure horse is their largest large animal project. Do you suppose we could ever make them mostly Morgan Pleasure Horses?

Stuart Wickson of Ledyard purchased a full brother to Orcland Bold Victory, his name is Orcland Bold Lancer (Ulen-don x Westfall Bold Beauty). Stu tells me he sold King Joe to Jack Fraher of Saybrook, Connecticut. The Virgil Scussels of Mystic bought a weanling at the Green Meadows Sale. Her name is Ashland Marcella (Bro-Rock March On x Ashland Britannia). This brings their Morgan family up to four.

Mrs. Edward Yaglou of Woodbridge has purchased her first Morgan. Sam Moro Ashbrook r.a.f. (Lippitt Moro Ashmore x Sadie Ashbrook). She is anxious to get her foal home and plans for him are as a family pleasure Morgan. Good luck with your new Morgan.

Roberta Hallock of Manchester will be sporting her new Morgan, Rhelect (Bay State Elect x Rhea). This is the young stallion shown this year by Owen and Ethel Shumway. Good luck, "Robie," we hope to see you at the shows next year.

Merry Christmas to all and a Happy Morgan Year.

Spent a most enjoyable day as guest of the Hadwen Stones of Simsbury, seeing how Mrs. Wells of Granby, Pony Club operates. Thirty-some ponies and horses (1 registered Morgan owned by the Stones) put on a terrific demonstration of horse sense. What a wonderful safe day of fun for both horse and rider. Mrs. Eleanor Wells showed me her lovely chestnut filly, Easter Bonnet (Easter Twilight x U. C. Sandra). Mrs. Wells also owns Easter Bonnet's dam, U. C. Sandra.

The Richard Sweets of Uncasville have purchased a full brother to their pleasure gelding, Anneigh's Bob Ash. He's a chestnut with a white strip and is three years old. He's Anneigh's Fascinator and was purchased from Susan Ganetta of Groton.

DYBERRY BUDDY 10219

Foaled 1949
Sire: Lippitt Billy Ash
Dam: Lippitt Miss Nekomia

We wish to extend to you and yours, a Merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year from us at "LOU-PAT". This coming year we offer two outstanding MORGAN stallions at stud.

Through the kindness of Mrs. Harriet Hilts of High Pastures Morgan Horse Farm, we now own DYBERRY BUDDY, the classic MORGAN and proven sire. Buddy is a real "using" horse and serves us daily as a training horse for our children. This high percentage grandson of ASHBROOK, only 9 generations away from JUSTIN MORGAN has produced some real "STEPPERS" such as Buddy's Princess, and many High Pastures Morgans.

LIPPITT KNIGHT VICRY, also offered at stud is another classic type Morgan. He combines the best Morgan blood available, and he shows it. High Pastures Sharon is in foal to Lippitt Knight Vicry and the foal will arrive in April, 1965.

Both of these stallions have wonderfully mild dispositions and are very well mannered.

Morgan Pleasure Championship Stake: Won by LADY ROXANNA; 2nd, ANNEIGH'S BOB ASH; 3rd, WINDCREST THOR; 4th, NABOB'S MELISSA.

Lady Roxanna captured the Road Hack Championship Stake over some very tough competition — once again the Morgans come through.

Although the weather was bitter cold Doris Rockwell's pretty mare, Cal of Windcrest's coat was pretty and shiny.

Leslie Muessig's pretty little mare, Nabob's Melissa, came into the driving class with the check rein broken but didn't faze her in the least — Melissa's head didn't move and she took a good second in her class.

members of our group since they moved west, but without a Morgan. Now they are truly within the fold, having recently purchased Apache Maid, a chestnut broodmare by Highland Glen x Brick, carrying a close cross to General Gates, foundation sire of the Government Farm. Apache Maid has an interesting past — she was owned by an Apache family of the Jicarillo Tribe, and has regularly produced foals. However, she has not previously been bred to her own blood, having been bred always to Quarter and Thoroughbred stallions of the Aztec area. Her former owners agreed that her good Morgan type more often than not predominated, regardless of the stallion to which she was bred. Due to her advanced age, the Busses plan to breed her right away to the Byers' Rex Linsley and then eagerly await her first Morgan foal. Just like all of us — they have a million plans going for that foal! The other sale was the young stallion Chico Bee (Chango x Jenabel) sold by the John Nixons of Espanola to a family in their area. This is the first Morgan for the new owners, and he is to be used on their group of grade mares. The new owners gelded the Palomino stallion they had formerly used, upon the acquisition of Chico Bee.

The John Rawlings family are busy moving into their new home in Corrales (Albuquerque area). Col. Rawlings is due to retire from the service shortly, and this will be their permanent home. We are sure happy that their two Morgans, Longview Saber and Green Meads Fair Lady will remain in New Mexico. These two Morgans (and of course their "humans") have become a welcome addition to our area shows, and our classes would be missing something if they departed. Teenage daughter Lynne has taken to showing with a flair, and does a top-flight job whether saddle or harness. We have just a few young exhibitors in our New Mexico group, and all delight in seeing these young people in the ring — and winning too, as often as not!

sented in a book of this sort, may well keep many potential Morgan owners from investigating the virtues of our breed. Another minor point — Mrs. Pittenger also labors under the apparently common misapprehension that the tail of the American Saddle Horse is actually broken in the process of being set.

These criticisms, however, do not affect the basic value of the book. It is one of the best written to date on the subject of the family pleasure horse, his selection and care.

Season's Greetings

FROM

HIGH PASTURES MORGAN HORSE FARM

BROWNSVILLE, VERMONT

Have a particularly nice, coming two year old, gelding — High Pastures Bruce (Dyberry Buddy x Royalton Hepsibeth) that would make the Christmas gift supreme. A good looking, well mannered colt with a temperament that is ideal for an amateur to work with. He has real potential for a top pleasure horse. Beautiful conformation, excellent way of going. Been bitted and long lined. "Stacked up" well in open and Morgan colt classes the few times shown. Also, we might be talked into parting with a filly or two.

Visitors always welcome.

Virginia, Not Pennsylvania

Dear Sir:

I appreciated very much the nice article in the October issue by Dayton Sumner, wherein he mentions that Dr. Glen Noffsinger had purchased a two year old filly from us. The difficulty with the report is that the name of the filly was misspelled and that they gave my residence as Dillwyn, Pennsylvania. The correct name of the filly is "Bel-moro" and my residence is at Dillwyn, Virginia.

Where To Go?

Dear Sir:

Please dear Editor, can't you for next year publish in each issue the places and dates of these Morgan horse shows, so that a person like me will know where to go. I don't have a Morgan yet, but I would still like to go to some of the shows.

Sincerely,

Extend The Trot

Dear Sir:

Recently I received another copy of your wonderful magazine in the mail. I had been buying it at my local newsstand, but I decided receiving it at home was more convenient. This is my second copy from my subscription.

Mrs. Eleanor Krumwiede gave me a one-year gift subscription and I would like it added onto my present subscription.

Keep up the good work! I really enjoy the magazine, but have one suggestion for the combination class. I feel that the extended trot both in harness and under saddle should be included. This is the gait that the Morgan excels and the public watching likes the extra speed.

was shown at two small local shows and received six awards.

I hope most of you are getting to see the Morgan Promotional film, if you want information on how to get hold of a copy, write to Mr. Graham Bockus, at Foster, Quebec. It is free of charge, you just have to get your own sound projector. Also while you are writing to Mr. Bockus, you might also ask for a couple of Morgan decals available at $1.00 and $2.50 plus a copy of the Canadian Morgan directory at $1.00 per copy.

I see Morgan International is going to publish an International Morgan Horse Directory. Deadline is for January 15th. So let's get on the bandwagon and get our pictures and advertising to these hard working people so that this deadline may be met.

Congratulations to the following persons on the purchase of JOYRIDE Morgans in 1964:

Morgan classes at the Minnesota State Fair were well filled in both the halter and performance classes. And for the third year in a row, it rained during the halter classes on Monday morning. As a result, after one ran the horses the half block or so to the show barn, and stood in the mucky tanbark under the outside roof until their class was in — almost all attempts to have horse and his shower look clean and well-groomed were in vain. People from all areas were at the show with their Morgans — some from Canada, from Wisconsin, South and North Dakota and Iowa, as well as the Minnesota exhibitors.

Results of the performance classes are as follow:

Ray Grage of Iowa had the misfortune to have a tornado rip through his yard this summer, destroying the barn and injuring one of his Morgan mares so that she had to be put away. Luckily, none of the family were injured and the house was left intact.

Any horse owner knows how valuable a good veterinarian can be and how nice to know that he will be available at all those odd times when animals pick to get ill, hurt themselves and so forth. In fact, one can not get along without him. He really deserves a lot of thanks. I would like to extend a word of praise to Dr. Donald Johnson, Veterinarian heading the Maple Plain branch of the University of Minnesota Veterinarian Clinic for, to him, I give the credit for saving our little bay Morgan mare, Deba-Con Raindrop, from sleeping sickness. Dr. Johnson came twice a day, faithfully, for over 2 weeks to feed her intravenously — to do everything that medicine could do for her. Moreover, he came quickly, whenever needed, and checked her progress regularly — every day after this two week period of intense care. Rainy was stricken a week before the Minnesota State Fair and was in a sling for over two months, but she can now walk, trot, canter and move very normally. She has completely recovered, thanks to Dr. Don Johnson of Maple Plain — who came when he was needed most and obviously used the right methods in caring for her. Raindrop was a spunky little mare who wouldn't give up, and with the excellent help of Dr. Johnson, she made it.

Late this summer, we had a delightful visit with Mrs. A. Nelson of Phoenix, Arizona and her daughter. Back in the cities to visit her sister, she called and asked to come out to see King Benn, our 18 year old stallion, whom

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson owned for eight years, and sold only when they moved to Arizona. Found out a lot of things about King which I didn't know before. How he had also been Grand Champion Stallion at the Minnesota State Fair two or three times when Mr. and Mrs. Nelson owned him — and, Mrs. Nelson said, he was reserve at the North Dakota State Fair then, too. Mrs. Nelson promised to have her husband write and give me more of King Bann's history, and I'm eagerly awaiting that letter. Mrs. Nelson said her husband liked King so much, that when he got to Arizona he bought a Morgan mare that looked as much like King Bann as he could find. King was bought by them as a youngster, and raised and trained by them. She said that many was the time they had wished they had left their trailer full of household items in the cities and taken King Bann with them to Arizona instead — they had missed him so much.

Annie Bonham wrote to say that her little twin mare, Bonnie Lee's Lucky just had a colt — a little chestnut with white socks — by Bonnie Lee's Jet. Think of the attention this little fall colt will get — no new ones to vie for his affection — all to himself!

The Morgan Show placings will be coming next month. Have held them back, hoping to get pictures of the show to include with them. So, in the meantime, if you have any news or pictures (5 x 7 glossies) of your horses, please send them to me, Doris Hodgins, R 1, Box 136, Rogers, Minnesota. A very happy and pleasant holiday season — and here's hoping Santa Claus gives lots of beautiful Morgan horses as Christmas presents. Merry Christmas to everyone and a very Happy New Year.

Mid-Atlantic

to settle for our reserve promotion award, which he also won last year.

The Promotion Champion, however, is nonetheless deserving. Tas-Tee's Indian Summer led from the beginning of the season and effectively advertised the breed at many shows not including on our circuit for scoring. She is owned and shown by Mike Goebig.

The Third Man was not so unlucky when it came time to add up the points in our roadster division. In this case he emerged with a tie for the championship.

Sharing top honors with him is Camelot Farm's Windcrest Sparkle. Honorable mention should also go to Ann Hopkins' April Surprise who did very well in roadster events where shown but did not enter as many shows since she had a new foal this year to occupy her attention instead.

The Equitation Division provides a challenge for our Morgan exhibitors of the future. This year Edie Horner staked out an early claim on the top award and held it throughout the season. She was also equitation champion at the Mid-Atlantic show.

A most promising young contender is the reserve champion, Mark Dalrymple.

Two riders were tied for third place: Jessie Colgate and Susan Platz. Fourth went to Debbie Fowler while her sister Candy tied with Pamela Colgate for fifth. There was another tie for sixth involving Karen Coddington and Guy Homer.

For many people, the Saddle Championship is still the most desirable one to win. Again this year there were more horses with over 200 points in this category than any other — six altogether.

Undisputed champion — with more than 100 points edge over the next contender was Trophy's Award, owned by Camelot Farm and Hainlin Mill Farms.

For Mike Goebig, Spring Glo also was more than 100 points ahead of the next horse to coast to reserve honors.

Honorable mention, however, should go to Waseeka's Buccaneer, owned by Mary DeWitt; Oldwick High Diamond, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Colgate; Trophy's Bracelet, owned by Camelot Farms; and Ledgewood Pecora, owned by Voorhis Farm.

Trophy's Award didn't have quite so easy a time winning the harness championship. In fact he went to the last show tied with Ledgewood Pecora on points, then took the award with a victory at that last show.

Honorable mention is well deserved in this category, for the third highest scoring horse competed only in pleasure driving events. But even with fewer opportunities to compete, Kane's Spring Delight was never far behind the leaders.

It was in the Pleasure Division, however, that Kane's Spring Delight was most sensational. She was not only good, she was undefeated in a circuit of the biggest Morgan shows in the country. Considering how widely some judges differ from others in their preferences concerning pleasure horses, her unbeaten sweep was all the more incredible. She is, of course, owned by T. H. White, Jr.'s Camelot Farms.

The Horlacher Trophy is presented each year to the horse scoring the most points when shown by amateur members of the owner's family. The 1964 winner is Spring Glo, owned by Mike Goebig who also claimed sixth in this category with Tas-Tee's Indian Summer.

Only a handful of points separated the next four horses in contention. Reserve finally went to Waseeka's Buccaneer for Mary DeWitt. Not far behind was Jomando. Fourth was a tie between Mrs. R. A. Zimmerman's Coffee Royal and Bill Hopkins' Robin Selassie. Foxy Rose Marie took fifth for the Colgates.

The Mid-Atlantic Scoring system requires that a horse must get more than a lot of points to qualify as horse of the year. The entry must show enough Morgan type to place at least once in hand, and must be versatile enough to score in any three other divisions.

The horse that had the most points after meeting all the requirements was Kane's Spring Delight, although stablemate Trophy's Award actually had more total points. Reserve Champion Horse of the Year was Foxy Rose Marie followed by Doc Dimock, Oldwick De-Lovely, Applevale Katonah, and Coffee Royal.

Also qualified but lower on points were Windcrest Sparkle, owned by Camelot Farms; Tas-Tee's Indian Summer, owned by Mike Goebig; Bay State Firemist, owned by Mrs. Archibald Cox; Nera Bellezza Pepper, owned by William Coddington; and Oldwick Celebrator owned by the Colgates.

Honorable mention also goes to the high scoring horses who came within one ribbon of meeting the qualification requirements. Following Trophy's Award in this category were: The Third Man, Spring Glo, Ledgewood Pecora, Oldwick High Diamond, Trophy's Bracelet, Waseeka's Buccaneer, and Robin Selassie. Any of these would have had enough points to be in the ribbons if they had qualified.

A new Morgan owner in the Mid-Atlantic area is John P. O'Connor of Gladstone, N. J. He recently purchased A. B. Dillon from Bill Hopkins and reports he is very pleased with him.

Speaking of Bill Hopkins, early in October he hooked up Robin Selassie and Manito in double harness to participate in the 75th anniversary parade in Madison, N. J. The unusual vehicle they pulled was a beautifully restored antique hearse with glass sides.

Merritt and Sandy Wooding hosted a very pleasant outing, trail ride, and chicken barbecue for members of the New Jersey Morgan group. "Guest of honor" was Bill Clarke, former president of the Connecticut Morgan club. Seven riders enjoyed a six-hour jaunt on the beautiful trails near Blairs-town, N. J., and finished off with a delicious chicken dinner at Wooding's.

Highlights of the Harrisburg show, so far as Polly Dalrymple was concerned, was her purchase of Waseeka's Memory Lane from Waseeka Farm. Polly has wanted the mare for years and finally persuaded Mrs. Power to part with her. A four-year-old chestnut mare by Waseeka's Nocturne and out of Polly's late champion Sterling Velvet, "Mollic" is a full sister to Dalcrest Concerto already in residence at Hillcrest Acres.

Polly reports now that the mare is more of a delight every day, and just what the doctor ordered to inundate the competition in ladies' classes.

We also heard at Harrisburg that Ayelen Richards had sold R. R. Donn Switzler to Mr. and Mrs. Finneyfrock of Gaithersburg, Md.

It was good selling weather at the other end of New York State, too. Pat and Don Long got back from the weanling sale to find a letter announcing they had a buyer for Linsley's Gaylord (Lord Linsley x Ginger Mildann). We didn't get the buyer's name but we understand they are temporarily living in New Hampshire and expecting to move to Pennsylvania next spring.

Stan Foster of Line Lexington, Pa., has sent Green Hill's Ja-Tone to Daymar Farm for some higher education. This is a nicely developed three-year-old mare with a lot of spring in her stride. Already well started under saddle she is to be polished a bit and trained in harness.

Another new Morgan owner in Maryland is Mrs. Samuel Patterson of College Park. She returned from the Weanling Sale the proud new owner of Hy-Crest Petite, a filly by Hy-Crest True Star out of Springbrook Nancy.

The Morgan owners in Frederick, Md., have new accomplishments to be proud of. Joe and Helene Vona sent their well known stallion Mr. Showman Vona down to the North Carolina State Horse Show at Raleigh and he rewarded them with a blue in the pleasure class. The Vonas also report that three of the Morgans they have bred are doing very well in the local Pony Club for their juvenile riders.

It's "Tally-Ho, Yoicks, and View Halloo" around Mike Brittain's house now. The three year old filly Marymore Sue (Mr. Showman Vona x Delight Ashmore) recently made her debut in the hunt field. Piloted by Sally Hensen, she displayed both manners and skill in following the pack and taking all the jumps as she came to them.

to welcome Jack into the Society of Morgan Friends.

As for Art Titus himself, he has been a bit difficult to follow around this past month, although Frank Sarno has done pretty well at it. Together they left the Morgan sale and flew to the Minnesota All-Morgan Show, where Art was the judge and where the long time champion, Congodon, apparently went up at every opportunity. Back from there, he flew off again with Hugh Currie to the production sale at Hazard's in Kansas, where Hugh bought the high selling animal, a weanling filly by the Brown Falcon out of a daughter of Upwey King Benn. Ruth and Hugh have decided to name this fancy filly, Funquest Benn Belle, and you never saw two people any more smug looking than they are. This brings the Currie family up to three Morgans, and one of the finest bands of POA ponies you'd care to imagine. Another flying trip home in time to welcome back to the barn where Champions live, Adonis, fresh from his latest Grand Championship at the Keith Line Show at Oakbrook, winner of Registered Morgans in Hand. Looks as if Art's motto should be, "A Champion in Every Stall."

And let's hear it for Mary Ann and Bill Chambers, who bring us to the deadline date with the word that they have bought the two year old daughter of Adonis, Brucewood Sweet Success, from John D. Sproul. The Chambers sat quietly through the Morgan Sale where registered foals went for lots less money, and came home and bought this fine half-bred mare because they thought she was what a Morgan ought to be. She is, too.

We have been silent recently about the record of Sheila Cunningham's mare, Michele, because we wanted to devote a special section to her accomplishments this year. Now that the season is complete on both circuits, we can tell you, confidentially, that the news is good, and if you will tune in next time there will be pictures and complete details following the official awards dinner, and the hero's name will be revealed. We tell Sheila that she only paid the bills. We can't mention the trainer's name, but his initials are Jimmy Watt.

specific details. First, your statement of reasonable regularity should be defined. How far does the mare deviate from the normal 21-day cycle? I would like to know more about her history before giving a conclusive opinion.

If the mare has fully recovered from the abortion, this should not be a factor. I advise a thorough examination by your doctor, and that you ask him to take a culture. Often the parts appear normal, but may still be infected.

Kyd, Kyd Cattle Company, Three Forks, Mont.; Mr. Clair Pollard, Sunland Ranch, Clovis, Calif.; and Dr. M. E. Ensminger. The Trustees have also signified their intent to add two Trustees each from Canada and Mexico, in keeping with the international scope of Agriservices Foundation.

In commenting on the purpose of the Short Course, Dr. Ensminger had this to say: "Half of today's knowledge will be obsolete in 10 years, and the other half of what will be needed by 1975 hasn't yet been researched or developed. In short, there is urgent need for practical ways to keep ahead. This School provides just such an opportunity for cattlemen and horsemen, and the agribusinesses that serve them."

Christmas

a few minutes the heater began to purr like a contented kitten and the interior warmed up. There had been no new snow for two days so I easily followed the trail the school bus had left. The car radio played a Christmas carol, followed by the news.

"Storm warning," boomed the voice of the announcer. "Attention all stockmen. Below zero temperatures and blizzard conditions. All drivers are cautioned to stay home unless it is absolutely necessary to get onto the highway."

I felt a sudden tinge of fear — the sky was overcast and the wind increasing. Johnson's Corner was just ten miles and if the storm continued I could stay there. This was something — happening just when Christmas vacation started!

The wind was blowing harder and a few small drifts blocked the road. I wished I had put the tire chains on, but now it was too late to stop. In another fifteen minutes I should reach Johnson's Corners. Visibility was getting worse and I could barely see. Then through the blowing snow I saw the sign board that marked a "Y" in the road. The left turn was the one to take. The wipers beat a wild rhythm on the windshield as I peered into the blackness . . . I surely must be there by now. I checked my watch. Thirty minutes had passed. Then I was almost panicky — I had taken the wrong turn; instead of turning toward town I was driving into the valley.

There was nothing to do but turn around, so that I did — or tried to, and ended up with the car imbedded in a six foot snow drift. I got out to look at the trouble and sank into snow to my hips. The wind whipped the scarf from my hair. The air was loaded with stinging flakes of snow and so icy that my face instantly lost all feeling. For an hour I kept the car running with the heater on and then at last it stopped — the gas was gone. I couldn't sit here now in the cold and freeze, so I unpacked my suitcase and put on every available piece of clothing I could wear. From the glove compartment I took my 22 pistol thinking I might need it for some reason. Then I opened the door and started out trying to follow my car tracks. However, in a few feet the tracks became filled with snow and I couldn't see a thing.

The temperature had dropped now and with the icy wind it must have been 20-25 below zero. Several times I went sprawling head first into a snow drift and the last time I could hardly get up. Then by chance I bumped into a fence and I followed it for a period of time that seemed endless and then bumped a large bulky object. It moved when I touched it! Hot breath blew on my face, faintly mixed with the odor of hay. I wiped the ice from my eyes and could make out a horse. Of all things to meet in a blizzard — a horse — the last animal I ever felt at ease with. This was no time to be afraid of a mere beast so I clung to it weakly, trying to press close to it and warm myself from some of its body warmth. All the time this horse kept moving slowly and I had to move with it. Several times I half fell and grabbing onto the animal's mane, pulled myself back up. In my numbed mind I thought maybe the horse knew where it was going — perhaps to some warm house or barn.

I remembered that if I lay down in the soft, furry snow I would surely freeze. Even the horse was shaking with the cold, its steamy breath freezing the instant the moisture hit the air. One of my eyes had frozen shut where the wind had ripped tears out onto my cheeks. My nose was pinched shut from the cold and like the horse I gasped the cold air through my mouth. I did not seem to have feeling in any part of me — what made me continue on was the faith and courage the horse showed. Swaying and stopping . . . starting on again . . . the beast continued. I did not want to die . . . as long as the horse went . . . I would go too.

Time passed . . . I walked . . . fell . . . got up again . . . walked . . . the horse stopped, I fell numbly against a cabin. The horse had stopped on the windward side. Some forgotten instinct of self-preservation made me crawl on my hands and knees to the door . . . thankfully it opened to my push. The interior of the one room cabin was almost as cold as the outside, but here at least was shelter from the wind. There was kindling wood already laid in the big iron stove, and matches to light it. After dropping and breaking most of the matches I managed to light one and touched it to the wood. My Guardian Angel must have been there to make sure the fire caught because I then fainted from exhaustion . . . when I awoke, I was lying on the floor in water that had melted from my own clothing.

The cabin was warm and cozy and slowly I sat up, tiny prickles of pain in my frost bitten hands and feet. The first thing was to take off the wet clothes. Several men must have lived in the cabin and I borrowed their heavy clothing to replace my wet ones. After building up the fire again I made some tea from the supplies I found in the cupboard. There was a plentiful supply of food . . . I would not starve.

Then I remembered the horse — that poor animal — still out in the freezing cold! What could I do — I'd never even been near a horse. Still I couldn't let it freeze out there — if it was there — so on went the coats and hat again and out into the rushing lash of the snow I went. Yes, the horse was still there, leaning weakly against the cabin. I did not know what to do — perhaps it would be best to shoot it. I felt my way around the cabin again to get my 22 pistol from the table. At the door I wrestled for fifteen minutes to get it open against the wind, then turning around with the gun in my hand I saw the horse had followed me and was standing half way inside the cabin. She was afraid to come in and I was afraid of the horse, but I crooned to it, "Come boy — come in," in my very best imitation of the Roy Rogers and Trigger movies I had seen. It must have done the trick as in she came, her huge stomach pressing both sides of the door frame.

After I got the door shut again I turned to survey my new companion. She looked grotesquely huge in the small cabin, standing there dripping water from her long coat. However, in the next twenty four hours we grew to be friends. She learned to eat some of the canned food — I melted her snow to drink and when the fuel ran out I began to burn everything burnable in the cabin. All miscellaneous papers first then the table and the chairs and bed followed. Luckily everything in the cabin had been built out of wood! At last I tore off the cupboard doors and burned them with only the shelves remaining. I conserved fuel like a miser counting his money. Christmas Eve was here and I had just shed tears of pity for myself when the horse began to act in the most peculiar manner.

At first she was very restless, walking around and switching her tail. I talked to her and gave her the last of the canned beans but in a little while she lay down and then got back on her feet. At last she lay down and groaned. I felt terrible — "Don't die now," I pleaded. Perhaps the canned foot diet did not agree with horses — in books it always said horses lived on hay and oats and such like.

Poor horse! She did not get up again but lay with her neck stretched out and her breath coming in grunts and gasps. I felt so utterly helpless, I did not have the slightest idea what to do — I patted her head, stroked her fine forehead and rubbed behind her ears. None of this loving administration seemed to help her at all. I got a blanket and covered her with it, thinking she might be cold. Still she did not get up. I took the blanket off, I noticed she was sweating and lo and behold! She was about to become a mama.

I never saw an animal born — much less knew anything about it so I watched in frightful anticipation. With every effort of the mare the colt became more visible — first its long front legs with its tiny nose between them much in the same manner a race horse goes over the finish line. The shoulders were exposed and at last the long colt was lying wetly in his membrane sac on the floor.

Perspiration ran down my face, yet the cabin was cold. I ran to the fire and replenished it with the few remaining cupboard shelves. The mare was on her feet now ripping off the membrane with her teeth and giving the new colt a good licking with her large, pink tongue. I grabbed the blanket and proceeded to give a helping hand with her wet, shivering child. The new baby liked all this attention, its proud little head bobbed back and forth and he unfolded his long legs. While rubbing the little fellow I made a discovery — in the very center of his forehead, centered perfectly between his wide eyes, was a perfect star of white — an actual replica of the Christmas Star.

The four long legs attached to the small body had quite a time supporting the new baby but the instinct to stand and suckle was strong. With my help this Christmas Baby found its mother's warm, rubbery teat and the sweet mare's milk ran down the colt's throat, warming it and giving it strength. In a few seconds the legs collapsed and the baby went down in a heap to rest. He would be all right now — with a full stomach he had a good start in life.

Sitting on the floor by the colt, I looked up at the mare — she seemed so friendly and kind, like a strong mountain guarding us both. She had saved my life and on the Eve of His birthday had presented a small miracle of her own. Suddenly all the fear I had felt toward horses left, and I stood up and threw my arms around her neck — she was soft and warm and smelled most wonderfully of that horse scent — new mown hay.

They found us the next day — on Christmas Day — just as the last of the wood was gone. Two ranchers had seen the smoke rising from the cabin chimney and came over to see who was there. One of the ranchers had been the owner of the horse — he said she was one of his Morgan brood mares and had left the protection of the open barn to go off to have her colt. They were looking for the mare when they found me. So it all summed up that I owed the mare and her Christmas Baby a large debt. I began repaying her right there and then by buying her and the colt. I learned a great deal that Christmas — how strong Faith really is — and how close the bond between human and animal can be. From that time on I learned to love the country, its life and the farm people in it, but most of all I learned to love that great and beautiful Morgan mare and her gift to me of life and a colt on that Christmas Eve.

From the Editors Notebook . . .

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all Morgan lovers everywhere. May all your foals be fillies and all your ribbons blue in 1965. Our season's greetings come to you from all the staff of the Morgan Horse Magazine, not only those whose names appear on the masthead, but also from everyone at the Eusey Press who works on the magazine.

The end of the year is a summing up for all of us, a time to evaluate our past achievements and to make good resolutions for the new year ahead. To help us do this here at the Morgan Horse Magazine, would you write to tell us what you liked best — or least — about the magazine during 1964? This isn't a contest. There are no prizes, but we will listen carefully to all your ideas and opinions, and print some of your letters.

Because of our change in publication deadlines, as noted below, your advertising for our March 1965 stallion issue must reach us by January 4th.

In addition to our advertising, we'd like your cooperation in preparing a special feature for our March stallion issue — a tribute to the senior stallions of our breed, those 21 years old or more (foaled in 1944 or earlier). We want to do an article on these grand old gentlemen, but there are so many of them that we can't possibly write a personal letter to all their owners and have time to put together our January-February issue, too. So, if you are the owner of a stallion foaled in 1944 or earlier, please take this as a personal invitation to you to sit down and write us right away about your stallion. In addition to his name, registration number and the name of his breeder, we'd like information about some of his outstanding get, his show or working career, and any other interesting things about him that you think we should know. If you have a recent photo that does him justice, send it along, too, properly identified, of course. With your assistance we hope to mention all these living senior stallions in this issue. Please help us — BUT we must have your information by January 4, 1965.

ATTENTION, ALL ADVERTISERS, CORRESPONDENTS AND READERS

Beginning with our next issue, that dated January-February 1965, we are initiating a new publishing schedule. At the request of many of you, each issue will come out a month earlier than it has done in the past. That is, our January-February issue will come out about January 1 (instead of February 1), our March issue will come out February 1 (instead of March 1), etc.

This means that all news columns, features, pictures and advertising copy intended for a specific issue must now reach our office two months ahead of the date on the cover of the magazine, rather than one month ahead as has been the case until now. This does not mean that there will be a two-month wait before the magazine appears, since each issue will be in the mail a month earlier than before.

For your convenience, the chart below gives the new publication schedule:

Date All Copy Must Reach Leominster Office	DATE On The Cover Of The Magazine	Actual Date on Which The Issue Will Be Published
December 1st	JANUARY-FEBRUARY	January 1st
January 1st	MARCH	February 1st
February 1st	APRIL	March 1st
March 1st	MAY	April 1st
April 1st	JUNE	May 1st
May 1st	JULY	June 1st
June 1st	AUGUST	July 1st
July 1st	SEPTEMBER	August 1st
August 1st	OCTOBER	September 1st
September 1st	NOVEMBER	October 1st
October 1st	DECEMBER	November 1st

In order to make this new schedule, for which so many of you have asked, work properly, we must adhere strictly to it. It will not be enough for advertisers to notify us that they intend to take space by the time of each month's deadline; rather, the advertising copy itself must be in our hands by the deadline for each month's issue.

We hope our advertisers and correspondents will extend us their fullest cooperation in making sure that their copy and pictures reach us before the deadline each month.

FUNQUEST MORGANS

FUNQUEST FARMS: The following prayer by Yellow Hawk, a Sioux Chief, is offered for your reading in the hope that doing so will add something to the Joy of your Christmas and pleasure in the companionship of your Morgans throughout the coming year.

"Oh Great Spirit, whose voice I hear in the winds, and whose breath gives life to all the world, - hear me - I come before you, one of your children, I am small and weak. I need your strength and wisdom. Let me walk in beauty and make my eyes ever behold the red and purple sunset. Make my hands respect the things you have made, my ears sharp to hear your voice. Make me wise, so that I may know the things you have taught my people, the lesson you have hidden in every leaf and rock. I seek strength not to be superior to my brothers, but to be able to fight my greatest enemy, myself. Make me ever ready to come to you, with clean hands and straight eyes, so when life fades as a fading sunset, my spirit may come to you without shame.
